Barry Scouts & Guides
2019 Annual Fete Saturday 6th July 2019

An accolade for Dinas Powys charity stalwart

DINAS Powys Voluntary Concern held its annual volunteer lunch in the lovely garden of Rothbury Cottage.

Despite the threat of rain, the volunteer 'thank you' was a great success. DPVC relies on its volunteers to run community transport including a minibus and daily trips to Dinas Powys Medical Centre and for its other services, including befriending and 'Good Neighbour Scheme'.

As a gesture of appreciation, there is an annual Volunteer of the Year award. As a slight departure from tradition the surprise volunteer to be awarded this accolade was the chair of the charity, John Fanshaw.

Addressing the volunteers, the vice chair of the organisation, Chris Franks, explained the award was well deserved: "John as we all know is a very busy man. Churchwarden, community councillor, Murchfield Community Association chairman, summer play scheme, Remembrance Sunday, Carols on the Twyn.... the list goes on."

"However, we are here to consider DPVC. As we know, John is more than a chair of the trustees. He is often in the office before 8am and is there until late afternoon. He represents DPVC at outside events and oversees the staff. He seeks out grants for the organisation, and constantly looks for ways to improve services. He is hands on when it comes to fundraising events and social occasions."

Sophie is born on Port Road

Sophie Hannah with her proud parents Johanna and Kelvin Knight.

A BARRY woman who was heading to the maternity department at the University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff to give birth ended up having her baby in the car on Port Road!

Fortunately, Johanna Knight's husband Kelvin (43) was on hand to help with the delivery.

On Friday evening, June 21, at around 9pm Johanna (36) began to feel some movement, but wasn't unduly concerned as her first labour had taken over 24 hours.

Kelvin explained: "We were monitoring the contractions on a mobile App and it was not full labour yet."

But not long after, Johanna's waters broke and the couple raced out of their home at Barry Waterfront and jumped in the car. Johanna was in the passenger seat with Kelvin driving. They made their way along Cardiff Road and up Barry Dock Link Road.

Kelvin said: "We had just turned right to head down to Culverhouse Cross when Johanna said: 'I can feel the baby!' said 'No!' She said: 'It's coming.'" (Continued on page 7)

'The Three Lions do matter!'

NO, do not forget those 'Three Lions on a shirt'.

The women's football team are the 'here and now' and have done really well in the World Cup.

We ought to be fully supporting the advancement of the game for females. Also, of course, the English side are the only UK representatives remaining in the competition.

All due respect for the British Lions rugby players as shown, but that headline is not good.

Probably it was supposed to be humorous, but actually it smacks of bigotry and misogyny in my eyes.

Mr M C Hoskins,
Boverton

GEM NOTE: For readers who may have forgotten, the headline in question, 'Forget those 'three lions on a shirt' - Cowbridge has five lions in a pub!' was prompted by the fact that five British Lions live within a mile or so of The Edmondson Arms in Cowbridge.

It was indeed meant to be humorous, and we had in mind the famous Baddiel/Skinner football song, entitled 'Three Lions (Football's Coming Home)'. Had we been referring to Steph Houghton and her team-mates, (and we wish them all the best when they take on Norway later today), we would, of course, have said 'Lionesses'.

Parking on the pavement

THE issue of drivers parking their vehicles on the pavement was raised via the Readers' Letters page in The GEM (June 20).

In response, may I say: parking on the pavement was once frowned upon, a 'no-no'.

It now appears this manner of parking a vehicle has become the default, by indifferent drivers putting convenience first.

For the pedestrian an obstacle and, for the less mobile, another obstruction.

A traffic warden recently informed me that the police set the precedence for the issuing of parking tickets.

Their instructions regarding vehicles parked on the pavement being: only ticket vehicles with 'double yellow lines' on both sides.

If this really is police policy, then thoughtless parking will become acceptable practice, the norm, and lawfully disregard the pedestrian.

Ronald K Davies,
Barry.

Good luck to Scouts from Cowbridge who are heading to North America!

IN just a few days' time Scouts from Cowbridge will be travelling 3,800 miles to wild and wonderful West Virginia, USA for the 24th World Scout Jamboree.

These are some of our brightest and best and every one of them will be an ambassador for the Scouts, the UK's largest mixed movement, helping prepare girls and boys with skills for life.

World Scout Jamborees only happen every four years and tens of thousands of Scouts attend each one. They are incredible festivals of peace, friendship and adventure. Young people will make friends for life with people from over 150 countries, experience different food, language and culture while learning new skills. It will be the journey of a lifetime.

The 2019 Jamboree, jointly hosted by the USA, Canada and Mexico, is set to be one of the biggest and most exciting yet.

The theme is 'Unlock a new world' - focusing especially on how we can create a sustainable world together.

I want to wish every single one of the Cowbridge Scouts good luck and safe travels.

We're so proud of you and I'll see you out there!

Bear Grylls,
Chief Scout.

'Frustration' at Welsh Assembly 'incompetence'

WE are fully supportive of the letter in last week's GEM from Ade Pitman of Barry asking the question: 'Just who is the Welsh Assembly actually serving?'

We have long felt frustration at the obvious incompetence of the Assembly and its latest decision to dodge the question of congestion on the M4 around Newport has only served to entrench our view that it is not fit for purpose.

We are clearly not being served as a country by a group of politicians who move around between posts within the Assembly and receive no real opposition or any influx of new ideas from younger recruits.

It is a shameful situation and reflects so badly on Wales as a democratic country. We do not come across anyone inside or outside Wales who has any respect for the Assembly.

We are happy to be involved in a campaign to have another referendum when the competency of the Assembly would be scrutinised.

It really is time that the people of Wales were given the opportunity to interrogate the Assembly members and decide if this is how they wish to be represented.

Rose and David Hoskin, Cowbridge.

Welsh Assembly is failing Wales

FURTHER to Ade Pitman's letter about the Welsh Assembly, I agree with him wholeheartedly.

I do not believe that Wales needs this talking shop, the £114m conversation about the M4 is a case in point and the AMs should be afraid that the conclusions drawn by the UK public about the EU may be echoed by the people of Wales about this organisation.

The people of Barry are already annoyed by the fact that a building on the old Barry Docks site has been completed and the members of the Welsh Assembly have continued to prevaricate over the licensing of this building to burn biomass.

The Senedd has a biomass burner at its heart.

'Business park plans not all positive' says reader

WE had just one week's notice via an advert in The Barry GEM and a leaflet through our door, regarding an exhibition outlining the proposed new business park in Rhosce.

We attended this and gave feedback to Legal and General outlining all the negatives including the short notice.

We were surprised to read a report on June 13, highlighting all its perceived 'positives' but with no mention of the negatives, ie housing allocation, gypsy/traveller site, extra noise and polluting emissions from further traffic when there are already horrendous daily delays travelling along Port Road, and the threat to wildlife etc due to building on a greenfield site.

Interesting given that Government supposedly wants to reduce emissions! Why aren't the council being honest about their desire to build on as many green spaces as possible?

Why isn't the St Athan site being used, given that it already has capacity, instead of spoiling another green wedge? Why not use Llandow brownfield site to house the travellers? Where's the extra infrastructure? Why are so many housing developments being permitted throughout the Vale? Name and address supplied.

Get Together gives hope

ON June 23, I attended a wonderful event in Llantwit Major to remember Jo Cox, the Labour MP who was brutally murdered by a far-right extremist.

The Great Get Together enables communities across the UK to host events over a weekend to celebrate all that it is good that binds us together. Attending the event in Llantwit, I was filled with genuine hope that despite the turbulent and toxic times we are living through, the people of the Vale are determined to build a stronger community: one that is based on inclusion, respect and dignity.

Also evident for all to see were the families who came, made bunting, baked cakes, some tidied up in the rain and others kept the cups of tea going. We were together as one group, sharing ideas on what's good about living in our area and what we could do to see things improved. I want to thank Laura Henderson and her team for organising and bringing us all together.

As the Labour Parliamentary candidate for the Vale I am proud that Jo Cox's work lives on through the Great Get Together events and I am equally proud of my fellow Vale residents. As Jo Cox stated in her maiden speech to Parliament, "we are far more united and have far more in common than that which divides us."

Belinda Loveluck-Edwards,
Vale Labour Parliamentary Candidate

Welsh Assembly should sort out recycling problems

FOLLOWING on from Gemma Stauber's letter (GEM, July 20), I too would like to know how so much of our so-called recycling ends up in foreign countries.

Since watching Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall's 'war on plastic waste' I am prompted to ask why I and thousands of others are even bothering to recycle. Every time I now see the dustcart all I can think of is that it's another lorry load being collected and dumped abroad.

The Vale Council is allowing building on any and every part of the Vale they can think of, and the signing off on planning permission is given without thinking of the consequences or impact on other people's lives, or the rubbish these extra homes will generate.

I believe recycling is all about hard cash. The Welsh Assembly do very little, therefore they have plenty of time to come up with a solution to the problem.

Time for them to earn that wage they are paid.
Anne Usher,
Barry.

Multilingual teacher recognised with acclaimed award

Madam Sian El, who speaks four languages, teaches French at Welsh medium schools – her pupils seem to be enjoying themselves!

A LANGUAGE teacher from Llantrithyd in the Vale, who speaks four languages, has been awarded the La Jolie Ronde Licensee of the Year Award.

Sian-Elin Jones teaches extracurricular French classes at three Welsh medium schools in the Vale through the award-winning La Jolie Ronde programmes.

Sian-Elin, known as Madame Sian El to her pupils was awarded the title at La Jolie Ronde's annual conference in Bristol. The program allows foreign languages to be taught through the target language, enabling her to teach French through the medium of Welsh.

Sian-Elin said: "I'm honoured and hugely surprised by the award. I love teaching languages and generally children love learning them. I will continue to pass on my passion for languages and different cultures to the younger generation."

In 2013 Sian-Elin joined La Jolie Ronde's network of teachers, setting up her own business teaching French at lunchtime and after school. She now teaches over 90 pupils across the Vale.

She was presented with her award by La Jolie Ronde's founder, Colette Hallam.

Cabinet Member for Learning and Skills, Cllr Lis Burnett, said: "Bravo to Sian-Elin's achievement. The work she does for children in the Vale is incredible."

"Now, more than ever, it is important for children to have an understanding and appreciation of other cultures and ways of life. Learning a foreign language is one of the best ways to do so."

Legionnaires' disease cases in the Vale

EMPLOYERS and members of the public are being reminded of the steps they can take to minimise the risk of Legionnaires' Disease as Public Health Wales and partner agencies investigate a higher than usual number of cases that have presented in the Vale over the last 10 months.

Nine cases have been extensively investigated. There is no evidence that any of these cases are linked, and most have individual risk factors for acquiring their infection, including some with travel abroad.

However, as a precautionary measure Public Health Wales and partner agencies are advising employers to check their legionella policies and practices to ensure they are compliant as we move into the summer months when Legionnaires' Disease is often more common.

Members of the public can reduce their risk by regularly flushing through or removing unused taps and shower heads, draining water bowisers and garden hoses if not in use, and using commercial screen washes in their vehicles.

Dr Gwen Lowe, Consultant in Communicable Disease Control for Public Health Wales, said: "On average, there are around 30 cases of Legionnaires' Disease in Wales each year. These are usually spread throughout Wales."

"This year, there have been 10 cases of legionella across Wales to date, two of which have been in the Vale. In 2018, there were seven cases in this area."

"We are closely monitoring this situation, continue to investigate cases, and will keep the status of this incident under review."

'Operation Nelson' aims to keep Vale coast crime-free

AN increased police presence at the most popular beaches in the Vale aims to keep crime and anti-social behaviour to a minimum this summer.

As the temperatures rise and the days get longer, the coastline between Llantwit Major and Ogmere-by-Sea is set to become a magnet for people who want to enjoy its natural beauty.

Although reported crime is low in the area previous years have seen an increase in crimes such as theft of and from vehicles, anti-social behaviour and criminal damage.

The Llantwit Major neighbourhood policing team have launched Operation Nelson which will run until the end of September.

Plain clothed and uniformed officers are patrolling areas such as Ogmere by Sea, Southerndown, Monkash, Llantwit Major and St Donat's.

Officers will be monitoring areas and taking robust action against anybody caught committing crimes or acting in an anti-social manner.

Llantwit Major PC Jamie Williamson said: "The coastline is blessed with incredible beauty and it is important that this can be enjoyed by anybody at any time without them feeling intimidated or being affected by crime.

"We will not tolerate those who act with total disregard for others and we will be looking to stop and search anybody who we think is acting suspiciously."

"The main concern for residents during the summer is predominantly young motorists congregating in beach car parks and behaving in an anti-social manner. Previously, we have had reports of speeding, playing loud music from cars and littering – in particular at the Ogmere-by-Sea car park."

"We will be issuing section 59 notices to anyone driving carelessly. "These powers allow us to seize vehicles which are used to cause a nuisance or danger to others."

He added: "Our message to the public is to come to the Vale of Glamorgan to enjoy our coastline but please be considerate of other visitors along with the residents who live here."

Visitors are also reminded to secure their vehicles when parking in beach car parks and to ensure they don't leave valuables on show.

If people have concerns about anti-social behaviour, they should call 101.

Pupils praised for 'going green' to help climate change

SOUTH Wales Central AM Andrew RT Davies visited All Saints' Primary School in Barry on June 21, to help the pupils mark Go Green Day.

The event was organised by Size of Wales, who are campaigning to protect a rainforest similar in size to Wales as part of the effort to reduce carbon emissions.

To raise awareness, all pupils dressed in green and pledged to work to reduce their carbon footprint. Mr Davies said: "It was a pleasure to visit All Saints' Primary, and see the pupils so keen to get involved."

"It's vital we all do our bit in the fight against climate change, and it was really pleasing to see such knowledge and enthusiasm from all. I'd like to thank Nigel Little and the team at Size of Wales for pulling the event together, and to the whole school for such a warm welcome."

Oak Field pupils get close to nature and brave the wet weather!

Dressed for the wet weather, Oak Field Primary pupils enjoyed their activities in the woodland area – and the hot chocolate!

AT Oak Field Primary School, the first session of Forest School with the year-1 class (Ash) was all about getting to know nature and the fantastic woodland area.

Even though the rain poured down, the children put on their water-proofs, wellies and set about exploring. They talked about what they would like to do, with activities such as mini beast hunting, pond dipping, den building and toasting marshmallows. The children had a story about conkers and looked at conkers through their development stages. They then had three horse chestnut saplings to plant and they enjoyed digging holes to put them in. By the time they had finished all their 'chores', the rain was beating down heavily – but that didn't deter the future forest rangers! Everyone returned to class and enjoyed a nice cup of hot chocolate to warm themselves up. The rain will never stop us having fun!

Penarth Mayor's fundraising year

Penarth's Town Mayor, Cllr Angela Thomas, with the attendees at her recent coffee morning.

PENARTH'S Mayor for 2019/2020, Cllr Angela Thomas, began her year's charitable activities with a very successful coffee morning in aid of her nominated charity, the National Autistic Society Cardiff and Vale Branch.

Held at West House on June 19, the event brought together community groups, the Vale

Council, businesses, charities and other dignitaries, alongside town council members and her consort, and Cllr Mark Wilson, the deputy town mayor.

Cllr Thomas said: "Thank you to Jo Jones of the Vale Sports and Play team for providing garden activities for children and for the generous donations from local businesses of raffle prizes and cakes."

The National Autistic Society Cymru works with autistic people across Wales. They provide a wide range of quality, personalised support services for people on the autism spectrum and their families and carers.

More information on the National Autistic Society Cardiff and the Vale branch can be found at cardiffandvaleautism.org.uk.

Hygiene Bank helps homeless

RESIDENTS at the Vale of Glamorgan Council's Ty Iolo hostel have benefitted from donations from The Hygiene Bank, an organisation that provides personal care items to those that need them most.

Ty Iolo offers those facing homelessness accommodation in a 21-room complex, each with its own bathroom and four offering disabled access.

The Hygiene Bank's Wales Coordinator Caroline Volrath recently contacted the hostel, offering products to those staying there. The donations have gone to families and vulnerable single people. Among the items sent to Ty Iolo are sanitary products, shampoo, shower gel, toothpaste, shaving kit and nappies.

Cllr Ben Gray, Vale of Glamorgan Council Cabinet Member for Health and Social Care, said: "Ty Iolo provides assistance to those that may find themselves in desperate situations and this partnership with The Hygiene Banks only adds to the help available. We are extremely grateful to Caroline for the generous donations received so far; they have made a real difference to the recipients."

The Hygiene Bank encourages the community to donate new, unopened toiletries and essential grooming products.

Caroline said: "With little money to cover the cost of everyday essentials, some families are being forced to choose between buying food or personal hygiene items. Hygiene poverty is shaming, isolating and excluding. Clean hair, skin and teeth are not a privilege. Tampons, toothpaste and a toothbrush are not luxury items."

"We are keen to hear from volunteers who would like to help to set up drop-off and collection points in their local area, as well as any companies who would consider hosting a collection point in their offices or may be able to help in any other way."

Campaign group is formed to oppose new Rhoose business park

A CAMPAIGN group has been launched to keep the public informed about the fight to save Model Farm and its land from a major development.

Last week, on the front page of The GEM ('Vale Farm could be bulldozed for business park') we told the story of how local tenant farmer Gethin Jenkins was fighting to hold on to his livelihood after the landowner Legal & General announced it wanted to build a business park there.

Model Farm is set in picturesque countryside between Barry and Rhoose. Many local people only found out its future was in doubt at an exhibition at Rhoose Social Club on June 7.

Rhoose resident Claire Williams decided to start a 'Vale Communities Unite - against the proposed industrial estate' group because she was shocked at the proposal for the business park, which will cover 111 acres, and because local people had so little knowledge of the proposal.

She said: "I set the group up in response to news of the development - none of us (local residents) knew about it. Not everyone received a Legal & General leaflet which was sent out on June 4."

Ms Williams said she was shocked to find out that the development was earmarked in the local development plan (LDP) - pointing out that most members of the public are not up to speed on the details of local planning.

The new group has set up a Facebook page and will post regular updates.

Ms Williams said: "The aim of the campaign is to make the public aware of what is going on. My idea is 'let's get the information up online' for people to see. We need better transparency."

She said she was "horrified" that one of the main gateways to the Vale could be changed forever.

Legal & General says the business park, comprising 1.7 million square feet of warehousing and distribution floor space, and serving the nearby airport, would create 2,000 jobs.

Ms Williams believes the '2,000 jobs' quote is "speculative" and "typical spin".

Late last week, the group delivered more than 2,500 leaflets to homes in Rhoose and the surrounding area appealing to local people to put their views to the developers. More leaflets drops were planned over last weekend.

Plans for the development can be viewed at Rhoose Library.

Responding on The GEM's website at www.barry-today.co.uk to last week's story, one person commented: "How on earth would the road cope with an extra 2,000 cars plus delivery lorries etc? The upgraded Five Mile Lane will hardly cope with existing traffic plus new dwellings being built between Barry, Rhoose and Llantwit Major."

"The road to Culverhouse Cross is not coping! The future generation will no doubt need to be fed. Is disposing of good farm land the best way forward? Should one possibly question the ability of the decision makers?"

If people want to let the developers, RPS, know their views, they can write to: Rhian Lees, RPS Park House, Greyfriars Road, Cardiff CF10 3AF, or email: info@pbpc-Consultation.cymru. The deadline for submissions is July 9.

DPVC's next AGM

THE Annual General Meeting of Dinas Powys Voluntary Concern will be held at 7.30 pm on Monday, July 8 at Murchfield Community Centre.

DPVC helps older people in the village maintain independence in their own homes.

A spokesman said: "The charity has an enthusiastic team of transport and befriending volunteers, with experience and local knowledge, who work hard to make sure local residents receive a high level of help and support."

"A brand new minibus was purchased this year, largely funded through the generosity and goodwill of the community, and it provides transport to local supermarkets and social activities. Transport to and from Dinas Powys Medical Centre has also proved a lifeline for many of our older or less mobile residents." For further information, telephone 029 2051 3700 or email: dpvc@btinternet.com.

Rhoose Lifeguards host longest-running ski race in Wales

RHOOSE Lifeguards recently hosted their annual ski race for the 40th year running, making it the longest running ski race in the country.

The race had 25 paddlers from surrounding local clubs, battling it out to be crowned 'champion' of the various categories.

Good weather and calm conditions led to a full course being set up with a loop between Rhoose beach and Aberthaw power station.

There was some great paddling from all, especially in the men's and double races which were neck and neck right to the finishing line.

A spokeswoman said: "Congratulations to all who took part and thanks to all those who helped to organise the event and provided the barbecue. Special thanks go to SLISA Wales IRB crew for providing safety cover."

The results were: Under 16 Boys: Drew Howells - Sker; Jai Gerrish - Rhoose; Fin Sullivan - Rhoose.

Under 16 Girls: Evie Wong - Rhoose; Leonora Breheny - Sker; Ella Bulmar - Rhoose.

Open Men: Jason Grice - Rhoose; Lloyd Rosewell - Penybont; Matt Rowlands - Llantwit Major.

Open Ladies: Meg McCloy

- Rest Bay.

Masters Men: Sam McCloy - Rest Bay; Andrew McDonagh - Llantwit Major.

Masters Ladies: Karen O'Donoghue-Harris - Rhoose.

Doubles: Ollie Wong and Ethan Wall - Rhoose; Josh Edwards and Gethin Edwards - Llantwit Major.

Ocean Ski: Gareth Rice, Gareth Potter. Rhoose won the overall aggregate.

The club thanked Fontygary Halt Fish & Chip Bar for its kind donation of £221, the money will be used to purchase new equipment.

Men of HMS Glamorgan will not be forgotten...

Penarth Sea Cadet Corps remembered the 37th anniversary of the fatalities on HMS Glamorgan on June 12, 1982 – lives lost during the Falklands Conflict.

ON June 12, 1982, during the Falklands Conflict, HMS Glamorgan (D19), a County-Class Destroyer, was struck by a shore-launched Argentine Exocet missile, causing serious damage to the ship and several casualties.

Due to excellent teamwork, some good fortune and the ingenuity of the ship's officers and men, HMS Glamorgan was saved from a watery grave in the South Atlantic Ocean.

Penarth Sea Cadet Corps (SCC) Unit bears the same name as Glamorgan, and its proud cadets and staff held their annual Remembrance Parade in the presence of the Lord Lieutenant for South Glamorgan, Mrs Morfudd Meredith, and the SCC District Officer, Lieutenant-Commander Peter Killick, along with other distinguished guests, parents and friends.

The parade was led by Chief Petty Officer John Callaghan, who was a member of HMS Glamorgan's crew in 1982 and is now a SCC staff member at TS Glamorgan. After the formal colours routine, wreaths were laid by the Lord Lieutenant, the Unit's Officer-in-Charge, Midshipman Joshua Biundo, and the Unit's youngest member, Junior Cadet Cerys Stonehouse.

Prayers for the men who were so tragically killed on that fateful day were led by the unit's Administration Officer, Miss Maria Biundo; POAEM(L) Michael Adcock; CK Brian Easton; AEM(M)1 Mark Henderson; AEM(R)1 Brian Hinge; (LA)CAEMN David Lee; CK Brian Malcolm; AEA(M)2 Kelvin McCallum; AB(R) David McCann; MEM(M)2 Terry Perkins; LCK Mark Sambles; LCK Tony Silience; STD John Stroud; LT David Tinker; POACMN Colin Vickers.

We will remember them.

Penarth Ramblers brave the rain - and are rewarded!

WITH the weather looking distinctly unfriendly, a group of four walkers joined Alison from Penarth and District Ramblers at Cogan and decided to brave the forecast rain.

Fortunately during the drive to Penttyrch the rain disappeared and beginning from the War Memorial, which commemorates the residents who were killed or were missing during the Great War, they pounded pavements from Cefn Bychan, crossing a busy road in order to join a track which led them through a sloping meadow, before crossing a stile and entering the Coed y Bedw Nature Reserve.

Owned by the Wildlife Trust of South and West Wales who purchased the land in 1984, this 41-acre site is classified as a Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Sited near Gwaelod y Garth this beautiful reserve with the Nant Cwmllwydrew stream flowing through the valley bottom contains mostly broadleaf woodland and rare plants, as well as a huge variety of bird and insect life and, throughout the seasons, the woodland floor is coated with a huge variety of ferns and wild flowers.

With rain still dripping from the trees and following the rippling stream with birdsong filling the air, they paused for morning break on logs just inside the wood with the dappled sunshine filtering through the tall coniferous trees.

On then past a row of cottages to begin their climb, first along a track to a farmhouse then up through more conifers without a definite path.

Emerging at the top, a field led them to a quiet lane where at a ruined farm building they paused to make a fuss of some friendly ponies with very long manes and forelocks and one young foal.

Deviating off the lane, a narrow path brought them steeply uphill with grand views across Cardiff and the Bristol Channel to the south and climbing to the eastern end of Garth Hill they were rewarded with views over Caerphilly in the valley below and northwards to the Central Brecon Beacons.

Arriving at the trig point the clouds lifted and with a cool wind from the west, the base of the tump below the trig point sheltered them during their lunch break enhanced by the songs of the skylarks overhead.

Refreshed and heading downhill across the common they made their return to Penttyrch and just after reaching their waiting cars the rain began to fall.

On June 29, meet 9am at Cogan Leisure Centre for an 11.5-mile hard walk taking in Carn Pica, Waun Rydd and Pen y Bryn in the Beacons; contact Robin on 029 2051 4051.

Wear suitable clothing, preferably boots and carry waterproofs, food and drinks. Some degree of fitness is required and if you are in any doubt, then please contact the leader for advice.

Llantwit Major students' military-style expedition

Daniel Sloper, Riley Jones, Olivia Bevan, Katie Fletcher, Yazmin Michael, Ruby Whitlam, Bethany Wrigley and Celyn Jauncey tackle the course.

LAST week, a group of eight year-8 students at Llantwit Major Comprehensive attended an expedition day at MPCT Rhymney – the culmination of a leadership course they have been following all year, led by Staff Lee.

The students started in September following the bronze level and then progressed through to silver and finally gold.

Throughout the course they have completed primarily physical tasks designed to encourage them to work together as a team, solving problems and developing their leadership skills.

On arrival, they were met by Staff Lee and other staff at the centre, including the friendly and inquisitive beagle, Andrew. The students were kitted out in camouflage jackets and helmets and introduced to the assault course, and given a demonstration by some of the cadets who regularly attend the centre.

The assault course included up and under bars, a 10ft wall, balance beams, a 6ft wall, monkey bars and finished with the 'trapezium', a huge structure made from scaffolding poles which the students had to climb up, crawl along the top and descend down a rope to finish.

After a few practice runs, the day finished with a race between our school and a group from Swansea.

Of course, Llantwit showed how well they work as a team and how determined they are and won the race, despite being younger than the other team!

They were also helped by two of the centre cadets who supported and encouraged the students brilliantly. They commented on how impressed they were with our group of students.

All eight students showed a positive attitude, despite the poor weather conditions.

which made some of the obstacles even more tricky and daunting.

"We were going past Wenvoe Golf Club and I pulled in just before the garden centre. I didn't have to do anything heroic. The baby arrived so quickly."

Sophie Hannah entered the world fighting fit at 10.50pm – just 10 minutes after Johanna's waters had broken.

The hospital decided to send out an ambulance, but in view of the fact that Johanna is a rare blood type, Kelvin decided it was advisable to get mum and daughter into the Heath as soon as possible.

The irony is that Kelvin and Johanna are

Flybe cabin crew members based at Cardiff

Airport and are trained to deal with deliveries – although Kelvin points out real life is a bit more stressful than a training session.

He added: "Johanna and Sophie were checked out by the hospital staff and didn't need any medical attention."

Sophie was 7lbs 2oz and is doing very well.

Meeting aimed to improve young people's mental health

WINE Street coffee shop in Llantwit Major was the venue recently for a workshop delivered by Cardiff-based charity The Jacob Abraham Foundation.

The foundation – founded in 2015 following the death of Jacob, aged 24, by suicide – aims to raise awareness through the provision of training, one-to-one support for anyone experiencing suicidal thoughts and bereavement support for those who have lost a loved one through suicide.

The workshop held in Llantwit Major gave a very helpful overview of suicide prevention and how to offer basic support to someone in need. The main message workshop participants received was that anyone worried about a friend or family member should not be afraid of asking openly and directly “Are you thinking of suicide?”

Workshop participants were also signposted towards many organisations who can provide specialist help, including Samaritans (08457 909090) and CALL (Community Advice and Listening Line for Mental Health 0800 1323737). Many who attended the workshop were particularly interested in the mental health of young people and we learned that there are organisations specifically aimed at helping children in the 10-17 age group who are experiencing difficulties with mental health. These include Papyrus Hope Line (0800 0684141), Childline (0800 1111) and Young Minds (Text YM to 85258 for free and confidential support). There is also a suicide prevention app for young people called Stay Alive.

The Jacob Abraham Foundation can be contacted on 02921 323433/jacobsfoundation.org.uk.

Planning row over wine bar

A NEW wine bar, owned by former Vale Major Cllr Leighton Rowlands, opened in Barry – even though a planning application has yet to be agreed.

The Watring Hole is on St Nicholas Road and permission is being sought to change use of the premises from ‘retail’ to ‘food and drink’.

One person contacted The GEM to say: “Many local residents object to the application to change the use of the building on grounds of noise and disturbance and inadequate parking provision that will overspill into the already congested neighbouring streets.”

“Neighbours deserve the right to object and to be heard fairly without Cllr Rowlands bringing considerable pressure to bear on the council by having already invested heavily on fitting the premises out and starting to trade.”

Cllr Rowlands said he was shocked residents had objected, adding that he expected to be treated like any other member of the public. He said: “Many local residents have been positive and supportive of the project and say it is what the west side of Barry needs.”

“They would much rather see the unit being used than it remaining closed. In relation to parking there is a car park on site and, since opening, we have had no issues with cars. A lot of residents walk to the premises and I would encourage local residents to use alternative means of travel.”

“Since being open

we have not made any noise and myself and the staff always ensure people leave quietly and respect the neighbours.”

He added: “In relation to opening before planning, I was informed by the council planning department, like other applications the department has had before, that it is not unlawful to open in advance of obtaining planning permission. But I will get further clarification on this with the department.”

The Vale Council said it had received complaints and was investigating. A spokesman said the bar had opened without planning permission and was in breach of planning regulations.

A spokesman added: “The council will now consider appropriate action to take and the identity of the owners will have absolutely no bearing on this. It is possible to have planning permission granted retrospectively, but a business can face serious consequences if it begins operating and such consent is not forthcoming. These include an enforcement notice requiring the use to cease, which if ignored could lead to prosecution.”

Latest: The GEM understands Cllr Rowlands has pulled out of the business leaving it to a business partner. This story has also featured on The GEM website.

Barry women can now go off at a tangent

BARRY and The Vale Tangent have been launched at an evening in The Boat House in Sully.

The new group is part of the national association of Tangent Clubs which is an organisation for women, with a focus on making friends and enjoying a programme of interesting and fun activities, eating out, theatre, festivals, family events, as well as sometimes supporting local and national causes through fundraising events.

We enjoy the fellowship of Ladies Circle, Round Table and 41 Club and together we are the 4 Club Round Table Family.

We also have links with Tangent Clubs across the world and are part of Tangent Club International.

Fancy a night out? Would like to make new friends? Please come and join us – all welcome.

THE VALE OF GLAMORGAN COUNCIL (PROHIBITION AND RESTRICTION OF WAITING AND LOADING AND PARKING PLACES) (CIVIL ENFORCEMENT) (AMENDMENT) (NO 1) ORDER 2019

- On the 21st June 2019 The Vale of Glamorgan Council in exercise of its powers under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 and the Traffic Management Act 2004 and all other enabling powers made an Order to remove the disabled persons parking places at the locations specified in Schedules 1, 2 & 3 and install disabled persons parking places at the locations specified in Schedules 4&5 below.
- The Order will come into operation on 1st July 2019 or on the dates that the signs and road markings are removed or installed whichever is the later and be known as the "Vale of Glamorgan Council (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Civil Enforcement) (Amendment) (No 1) Order 2019".
- A copy of the Order and plans showing the affected areas may be seen at the address shown below during normal office hours.
- If you wish to question the validity of the Order or any provisions contained therein on the grounds that they are not within the powers conferred by the above Act or on the grounds that any requirement of the same or that any instrument made under it has not been complied with in relation to the Order, you may within six weeks from the 1st July 2019 apply to the High Court for this purpose.

The following Traffic Regulation Order is to be amended as follows:

Vale of Glamorgan Council (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Civil Enforcement) Order 2013

Local transport schemes receive £1.8 million boost

THE Vale Council has secured more than £1.8 million of Welsh Government funding for transport schemes in the county.

Three road safety projects will receive a portion of the money, one on Cardiff Road in Dinas Powys and another from Floodgate roundabout to Nash Corner in Llandow, which will reduce speeds and improve safety.

Grants have been secured for junction improvements, including better crossing opportunities for pedestrians, along a route that includes Porthkerry, Romilly and Windsor Roads and money will go towards exploring the possibility of improving strategic transport from the junction 34 of the M4 to the A48, and exploring sustainable transport opportunities between Penarth and the Cardiff Barrage.

The funding means the programme of bus stop improvement throughout the Vale will continue, while money has been made available for work on selected active travel routes, which help promote walking and cycling.

In addition, there will be funding for child pedestrian training for five to seven-year-olds in the Vale, and cycle training for year six pupils.

Cllr Peter King, Vale Council cabinet member for neighbourhood services and transport, said: "I'm delighted we have secured this funding, which will go towards a large number of exciting, worthwhile schemes."

"It will enable us to improve the Vale's existing transport infrastructure, explore the possibility of making improvements to the road network and offer road users the opportunity to partake in specialist training."

Penarth gets ready for Summer Festival

PENARTH'S Summer Festival returns on July 13 and 14.

On Saturday, July 13, the Downhill Derby soapbox race, with plenty of entertainment, street food and live music before events are brought to a close with fireworks from the pier.

Sunday is Penarth's traditional carnival day, with a host of free activities to engage all the family in front of a water ski championship offshore.

Last year's event attracted 20,000 over two days.

The timetable of events are as follows:

Saturday, July 13: 10am-4pm, Alexandra Park Family Bear Hunt; 12pm-2pm, Teddy Bear's Picnic in Alexandra Park; 12pm, Esplanade site opens with stage entertainment until 10pm; 2pm-4pm, Downhill Derby; 10.15pm, fireworks.

On Sunday, July 14: From 10am-4pm, Alexandra Park Family Bear Hunt; 12pm-2pm, Teddy Bear's Picnic in Alexandra Park; 12pm, Esplanade site opens with stage entertainment until 6pm; 3pm, Water Ski Championship; 7pm, close.

From July 4-14, the popular Open Air Art Exhibition returns to The Cliff Walk with a chance for visitors to view and purchase unique pieces of art. Artists will be present from 12 noon to 7pm every day, weather permitting.

'Western Vale needs more trains' says councillor

A LOCAL councillor says he fears there will be periods of congestion on the main road from Llantwit Major to Barry for years to come.

Cllr Gwyn John said that with more houses planned in the western Vale and the possibility of a huge business park just off the main road between Barry and Rhose, car use would increase at a time people were already finding journeys frustrating.

He said: "It's mayhem already. I used to allow half an hour for a trip from Llantwit Major to Barry, but now I allow 45 minutes – you just don't know what sort of delay you might be hit with. If someone is going to the Heath Hospital and takes the Barry road, they have to allow an hour."

Cllr John said the only way to relieve the roads was to improve public transport and run trains more regularly. At present we have an hourly train service to Llantwit and half hourly trains won't come until 2023.

"People also need to trust the train service. Sometimes trains are cancelled due to flooding."

Over 1,600 houses could be built in the Llantwit Major and St Athan area in the next few years – 370 of them at Eglwys Brewis and 400 off the Northern Access Road.

Legal & General hopes to build a business park with 1.7 million square feet of warehousing and distribution space which will serve the airport – but it will also generate more traffic.

Cllr John said: "Yes, there's an enterprise zone, and yes we want jobs but the transport infrastructure needs to be there. I hope Ken Skates, the Minister for Transport, will look at introducing half hourly trains far earlier than 2023."

The GEM contacted the Welsh Government but at the time of going to press had not received a response. TC

St Nicholas pupils learn new skills

St Nicholas Church in Wales Primary School pupils with deputy headteacher Mr Jones at the workshop.

A SOUTH Wales property developer is giving pupils in St Nicholas the chance to learn more about the heritage of their hometown, as part of a community-wide art project.

Waterstone Homes, the builder behind the St Nicholas Fields development in the village, has decided to put its public arts budget towards delivering a range of educational workshops for pupils at St Nicholas Church in Wales Primary School.

The workshops include an introduction into the history and archaeology of the region, as well as sessions in metalwork and pottery.

Following the sessions, each of the pupils will create their own miniature public art-works and their creations will influence the final design of a steel public installation, which will be housed at the entrance of the new Waterstone Homes development.

Mr Jones, deputy headteacher at the school, said: "The aim of this project is to inform and engage our pupils in the history and archaeology of the St Nicholas region. The workshops offer the children a very different and stimulating style of learning, enabling them to learn outdoors, use archaeological tools, handle genuine and reproduction artefacts, and meet real archaeologists and metal-working professionals."

Forest bathing at Cwmtalwg

THE first forest bathing event to be held at the Cwmtalwg Local Nature Reserve on Severn Avenue, Barry was a great success; the sun shone, the birds sang, the leaves of the trees were outlined against a blue sky, the old oak and ash trees were admired and hugged and everyone appreciated the tranquil atmosphere.

After the quiet walk people enjoyed homemade cake with coffee, tea and conversation with the members of the team who look after the Nature Reserve.

To keep up to date with activities go to our Facebook page @cwmtalwgwoodsgroup and to find out more about the project, contact Anne Bryan at a.bryan77@icloud.com.

Dinas Library cafe opens

Visitors enjoy the cafe on opening day at Dinas Powys Library.

THE next phase in the development of Dinas Powys Library and Activity Centre has started with the official opening of the café.

The library is located next to the primary school and is convenient for parents of children attending the school.

Marianne Cowpe, a library trustee, said: "It's so nice to see all different age groups and organisations enjoying our lovely new (café) space. We have had good feedback regarding the quality of our coffees and the children love the juice and ice cream. Do please pop in and have a look round."

Plant Llantwit elects its new committee

The new Plant Llantwit committee from the left, John Moisan, Lianne Dunmore, Richard Arnold, Olivia Phillips, Gareth Jones and Ray Scott.

THE second public meeting of Plant Llantwit took place at St Illtud's Church on Saturday.

The campaign aims to add 1,000 trees and a mile of hedgerow to the local environment.

Around 40 people were present to hear the constitution read out and to see members of the committee proposed and seconded.

Gareth Jones, the chairman of the new group, told The GEM: "Contact with the Woodland Trust, the local council and the Vale ecologist has all been encouraging and plans to plant trees in the town are taking shape. The response has been positive in all directions.

"An open discussion followed and Belinda Loveluck-Edwards, the Vale Labour Party parliamentary candidate, told us about similar groups in Barry who have planted trees in a school, and about another group in Rhosce. She suggested contacting them and sharing information.

"There were a number of other ideas discussed such as seed collecting for propagation and volunteering with local school garden projects."

Plant Llantwit will have a stall at the Victorian fair and The Great Get Together providing more information for the public.

Self help group for workplace bullying victims in the Vale

A MAN from Barry is keen to launch a 'self help group' for people who have suffered work place bullying.

Former youth worker and employer consultant, Mark Brinkworth (62) said there were immense benefits to people sharing their problems.

He said: "The celebrity Stephen Fry opened up about being diagnosed with bipolar disorder and removed much of the stigma surrounded mental health problems. People now recognise the benefits of sharing their experiences."

"I am starting a group which will give people who have suffered from bullying in the work place the chance to listen to other people's stories and perhaps recount their own."

"The meetings will be an opportunity to receive support from understanding people outside the family. People with mental health issues can become isolated.

"This will be a chance to get out, meet up and have a chat with people over a cup of coffee in a supportive atmosphere."

Mr Brinkworth, who has previously worked with young people with disabilities and hosted photography workshops for people with mental health problems, said: "If there is anyone reading this who has suffered from work place bullying and would like support from people who have experienced similar treatment, I'd urge them to get in touch."

"If the group grows, I'd like to set up a Facebook page for members and arrange meetings with politicians to raise some of the key issues."

Mr Brinkworth can be contacted at hebog100@gmail.com.

AM praises great get together

DURING a weekend of 'get together' events across the UK in memory of the late Jo Cox MP Jane Hutt AM joined the event at Seaview Park in Llantwit Major with stalls and games and friendship shared.

She said: "Thank you to The Great Get Together team of volunteers in Llantwit Major for a wonderful gathering of people supported by the Deputy Mayor of Llantwit Major Town Council."

News from Llangan School
AFTER the pretty damp start to the week, the sun eventually came out for everyone to enjoy the school's sports day which took place on June 20.

It had quite a dramatic end, with the winning house not being determined until the very last race – the relay – as all three teams were within one point of each other!

Eventually it was Team Gower which was crowned the school's 2019 Sports Day Champions. The team captains AJ and Freya did a lap of honour to celebrate.

Following the sports event the Friends of Llangan hosted a mini-summer fair with refreshments, a barbecue and water slide.

St Mary Hill Church service
PLEASE note there will be no service on Sunday, June 30 as this is the fifth Sunday of the month; also there will be no service at St Mary Hill Church on Sunday, July 7.

There will be a benefice service at Cowbridge Church as Rev Susanna Brumell is leaving. The next service at St Mary Hill Church is on Sunday, July 21.

'Make bypass key priority' say Conservatives

DINAS Powys
Conservatives have called for a major rethink of transport policy by Vale Council officials, claiming the council leader is "jeopardising significant progress" on efforts to boost links between Barry and Cardiff.

Cllr Vince Driscoll, shadow Cabinet member for neighbourhood services and transport, called on the Vale Council to pause plans for a new road and viaduct through the Ely Valley (the 'Junction 34' scheme). Instead, he and fellow Conservatives want the Labour-led administration to make the bypass its key priority. But they said he has already told the press he doesn't think the Welsh Government will find the money.

Cllr Driscoll said: "The new leader risks jeopardising the significant progress that has been made on a bypass, within just days of taking over. Congestion between Cardiff and Barry is getting worse all the time, and development along Barry Waterfront and in the village of Dinas Powys is going to make things even more difficult for commuters."

"Instead of pressing on with an unpopular road in Pendoylan, he should be making the case for the bypass which is the road Barry residents want to see built."

Cllr Peter King, Cabinet member for neighbourhood services and transport, told The GEM that the two schemes should be looked at separately: "These are two very different issues and it is misleading to confuse the two. The M4 Junction 34 scheme is being funded by Welsh Government. This funding is allocated directly to this scheme and cannot be transferred to any other."

"The Vale Council has worked hard in an attempt to secure further money from Welsh Government for the Dinas Powys bypass scheme. However, Welsh Government has only funded the M4 Junction 34 scheme for 2019/20."

Cllr King added: "The council is currently investigating the cost of the next stage of the work on proposals for the Dinas Powys scheme and once we have estimates will look to take a decision on whether or not to progress it ourselves."

Victorian Fair day was 'amazing'

LLANTWIT Major events group says the Victorian Fair day on Saturday, June 22, couldn't have gone better.

The secretary, Liz Evans, said: "It was an amazing day. We were lucky – the sun shone and the town was full of happy people. The stallholders and performers all pulled together so well."

"I want to thanks the volunteers who worked tirelessly – without them we couldn't do it. We also want to thank Mr Hunt for the use of the Precinct."

A bucket collection took place to raise funds for the Big Wrap Appeal which provides Christmas presents for disadvantaged youngsters.

Missy no longer missing!

Missy has now been returned to her owner who said: "We are delighted to have her home."

A 20-year-old cat has been reunited with her owner thanks to a microchip after going missing for three months.

The black and white cat was found unsteady on her feet and staggering at Cwrt Gwenllian, Barry, on Saturday, June 5, and the RSPCA was called in.

RSPCA inspector Izzy Hignell said: "This poor cat was found very hungry and very dirty, and had a large matt on her back. At RSPCA Merthyr Tydfil Veterinary Clinic she was scanned for a microchip and we've been able to track down her owners.

"I was delighted to be able to phone up her owners to tell them she had been found. Shockingly, she has been missing for around three months and they thought due to her old age she had died."

Missy is now doing well after receiving veterinary treatment. She has now returned home.

For more information on microchipping, go to: www.rspca.org.uk/allaboutanimals/pets/general/microchipping.

Join Tŷ Llandaff for National Care Home Day

‘Sky Aquarium’ lights up the sky

RESIDENTS and staff at a Pontcanna care home will be opening their doors and showing their creative skills to friends, family and the local community for National Care Home Open Day.

Tŷ Llandaff, a private nursing, residential and respite care home in Conway Road, will be joining thousands of other care homes around the UK taking part in the annual event on Friday, June 28, with a theme this year of celebrating the role of ‘Arts in Care’. The idea behind National Care Home Open Day, now in its seventh year, is to encourage local people to visit care homes in the community and work together to build long lasting relationships.

Tŷ Llandaff is inviting the community to join their residents for a cup of tea and slice of cake, and meet Tŷ Llandaff’s new service manager Lisa Cristina.

Visitors can also take a tour of the facilities if they wish.

Residents keen on artistry regularly attend weekly art sessions at Tŷ Llandaff which are organised by staff at the home and the home plans an exhibition of the residents’ artwork.

Colouring and drawing will be available for younger guests.

Lisa Cristina said: “Building relationships with the local community is really important to us at Tŷ Llandaff, and National Care Home Open Day is a fantastic way of bringing generations together.”

“Here at Tŷ Llandaff, we use art therapy every week as part of our varied activities programme and we’re really excited to be able to use this open day to show visitors exactly what happens.

“Creative activities are great for relaxation and stress relief, as well as self-expression.

“Our classes are also good social occasions as everyone can chat while they work and share in what they have created.

“Our residents are really looking forward to welcoming visitors on the open day and are excited to see their masterpieces being displayed in the exhibition. We’re really proud of them and their artwork and can’t wait to show it off.

“On a personal level, as the new manager at the home I’m looking forward to meeting and getting to know people from the wider community, during what promises to be a lovely friendly afternoon of fun.”

Councils’ disability strategy meeting

THE Vale Council, Cardiff Council and Cardiff and Vale University Health Board joined partner agencies, individuals and carers, at the launch of the Joint Commissioning Strategy for Adults with a Learning Disability 2019-2024 on June 18.

Working together with people with a learning disability, their families, carers and the third and independent sector, Cardiff Council, The Vale Council and Cardiff and Vale University Health Board, have developed their first Joint Commissioning Strategy for Adults with a Learning Disability.

The strategy aims to provide a direction for adult learning disability services across the region over the next five years and it outlines key issues that will be addressed in the forthcoming years.

This includes ensuring there is sufficient capacity and an appropriate range of provision.

A spokesperson said: “The shared vision and core principles central to the strategy are that people with a learning disability are supported to have: ‘a good quality of life and to live the lives they want to lead; living locally where they feel good and well, where they are valued and included in their communities and have equal access to appropriate support that ensures independence, choice and control.’@

Read the document here: www.cardiff.gov.uk/ENG/resident/Social-Services-and-Wellbeing/Adults/Pages/default.aspx

Cllr Ben Gray, Vale Council cabinet member for social care and health, said: “By ‘promoting independence and improving lives’, we will support people to live the lives they choose, with access to high quality, flexible health and social care and support when they need it.”

BARRY’S ‘Beyond the Clouds’ kite festival took off this year with hundreds of people taking part in the event on the longest day of the year.

Organiser Glyn Pooley said: “It was an opportunity to share joy, peace and friendship through the simple act of flying kites together.

“We saw some amazing kites take to the air, creating a magical ‘sky aquarium’. Beautiful hand-crafted kites were produced by pupils of Holton Road and High Street schools and members of the public on the evening, courtesy of the Barry Making Waves project.

“The joy of making a kite and seeing it fly was something special. Kites were also made and flown around the globe by our friendship partners in Colorado USA and embraced by ‘Kites for Peace’ in Zimbabwe.

“Art4U would like to thank Wayne Kiteman for sharing some spectacular show kites, and Helen, Ray and Jon for helping behind the scenes. Kindness was at the heart of this event and by the joy on people’s faces happiness was in the air.”

Glyn added: “Thanks go to Wayne for donating the wonderful kite, which was won by Sian Rodgers.”

Book inspires children to make dreams come true

AN all-woman collaboration has led to Tarmac launching a children's book aiming to inspire youngsters while encouraging them to not let go of their dreams – and Rhws Primary pupils have been the first to hear the story and meet the characters.

'What's a Girl To Do?' was the dream of Tarmac Aberthaw's environmental co-ordinator Kara Bennett and communications consultant Nicola Jenkins, but it was after partnering with local author Alison Powell and illustrator Emily Jones that the book came to life through the eyes of Ellie – a determined young girl who sets out in her quest to become an engineer, but faces negativity and obstacles along the way. Ellie doesn't want to give up on her dream easily.

Vale AM Jane Hutt and year one pupils from Rhws Primary were the first to hear the story as the book was launched at Rhose Community Library this week and were thrilled to learn about Ellie's journey into the world of work.

Kara explained: "Having worked in heavy industry for years I am disheartened to see just how few women consider it as a career choice. This was enough for us to want to do something about it. I am lucky that I am working in a job that I love, and I hope this book will inspire other young people to realise that the engineering industry presents so many opportunities that are there for the taking."

Jane Hutt AM said: "This all-woman collaboration is an amazing initiative and has resulted in this brilliant book. I was so pleased to be invited to the launch. We need more stories about girls and women breaking boundaries and celebrating their achievements. I'm sure this book will inspire lots of girls to pursue careers in science and technology and I would like to congratulate Nicola, Kara, Alison and Emily on the success of this project."

Penarth author Alison Powell has been involved from the outset of the project, and she has brought Ellie and her family and friends to life through the book. Alison said: "As a mother of two children, I know how important it is to re-enforce positivity through all aspects of life, to challenge stereotypes and ensure they know they can strive for any career they choose, regardless of gender, race or orientation."

Evan, a year two Rhws Primary pupil, said: "I loved the bit in the story where Ellie got a job. People didn't think she could be an engineer, but she proved them wrong. We can do whatever we want when we work hard."

'What's a Girl To Do?' will be distributed to schools across the area and copies from the initial print run, funded by Tarmac Cement and Lime, can be requested by emailing kara.bennett@tarmac.com.

Robert Fisher on his way to Cowbridge from Denmark.

Robert's epic bike ride for Welsh homeless charity

A FORMER Cowbridge resident was so shocked by scenes of homelessness in Cardiff that he decided to do a cycle ride from Denmark to Wales to raise funds for Shelter Cymru.

Robert Fisher (46) left the city of Odense on June 22 and aims to complete a 1,181-mile ride back to the Vale.

He explained: "During a night out in Cardiff on a return trip to Wales, I was shocked and appalled by the numbers of homeless people living in tents in Cardiff city centre.

"It seemed to have got worse since we moved to Denmark. I therefore felt that something must be done."

Robert, a keen cyclist who has lived in the Vale for most of his life, moved to Denmark to give his family the chance to experience a different way of life abroad before any potential limitations of Brexit.

He said: "We all miss Wales and plan to return in the future, but for now we try to visit whenever we can." He is cycling down the western European coastline via Germany and the Netherlands to the Hook of Holland.

"He will then catch a ferry to Harwich where he will embark on the final stretch of the journey across England and Wales."

"He is cycling alone and camping along the route."

Robert has set himself a £950 target and if people want to donate they can go to his JustGiving page: bit.ly/charitycycleDKtoUK.

A summer fair in Porthcawl

IT'S once again time for The Newton, Porthcawl village green fair on July 6.

The day's entertainment starts at 11.30am with the Rock Choir, who will be belting out soft rock anthems in their usual inimitable style.

Porthcawl town mayor Cllr Graham Walter, a Newton resident, will declare proceedings open at 12pm after the church bells have rung.

Next are the Ukulele Bandits, and then the Elindia Belly Dancing troupe.

Also on offer will be a guided tour of the church. There will be the usual cornucopia of stalls from plants and books to games. The tea room will provide refreshment in the form of tea, coffee, light lunches and cream teas and the Pimms stall is always popular. This year, the Porthcawl Male Voice Choir will be singing and in the afternoon, the magic tricks of Simon Sparkles will entertain the children.

The afternoon draws to a close with the youngsters of The Performance House entertaining with songs from the shows, and concludes with the traditional tug of war between The Jolly Sailor and The Ancient Briton, just after the raffle is drawn. From start to finish at 4.30pm it's a fun filled afternoon for all. Buy a programme to get all the time listings and some raffle tickets.

Community choir

THE Barry Community Choir has had a busy year so far, with June being no exception.

The choir was delighted to sing at Pioneer Hall, Barry for the Friends & Neighbours group and at the Jo Cox Great Get Together event on Barry Island – both events took place in the same week – June 19 and 21!

The choir had a very enthusiastic reception at both events, with the audiences joining in on many songs. Many thanks to Gay Fyfield at Friends and Neighbours for inviting the choir and for giving us such a warm welcome. Thanks, also, to Jane Hutt for inviting us to sing for such a great cause. As Ms Hutt commented – there are more things that unite

Coalition's 'shared aim of protecting people and services'

WHEN I wrote to GEM readers last month, after taking on the role of Leader of the Council, I said I was well aware of the difficulties and work that laid ahead... and the first month has certainly been a busy one.

Last month I said that I intended to lead an administration that took decisions in the best interests of local residents and the services many of you depend upon. If my cabinet colleagues and I are to achieve this then we need to find as many ways as possible to explain to you how and why any decisions are being taken.

I therefore hope that this column will give you an insight into the workings of the Council and most importantly, into how your views can shape the decisions we take.

I would also reiterate that the coalition are united by a shared aim of protecting the people and services of the Vale and every cabinet meeting will be held in this spirit. We will use that same principle and spirit when we will be considering upcoming reports.

To that end my cabinet colleagues and I have already approved £2.37m of additional funding for school buildings and £1.7m of investment into the Vale's transport infrastructure, money that will be spent on both improvements to our roads and studies into the potential of ambitious future schemes like a link between Penarth and the Cardiff Bay Barrage.

There has been other good news to report this month too. We have seen Ysgol Bro Morgannwg and Cowbridge Comprehensive School receive outstanding inspection reports and I would like to commend all the staff at both schools and the council who work to support their achievements and thank them on behalf of the communities and the pupils they serve.

Regrettably, there has been some bad news too this month. We were devastated at the news of the closure of the Ford plant in Bridgend. It was a stark reminder of the realities we are all facing in these austere and turbulent times.

However, I know that for me and my cabinet colleagues it served as a stark reminder of why good quality public services will always be required to support people in be better than ever this year. There will be live music, craft stalls, top quality food and drink from lots of local pop-up operators and of course a fantastic view out from the eastern promenade.

We will also be welcoming our twinning friends from the continent, who will also have stands at the event. I hope that the weather stays fine and that as many people as possible join us and have a good time at the event.

Finally, I would like to close the first of my monthly columns by thanking the team at The GEM for offering me the opportunity to resume writing to readers each month.

Fine day for ducks planned in Knap Gardens

THE Rotary Club of Barry charity duck race on Saturday, July 20, will take place for the third time at its new home in the Knap Gardens, this year with more attractions than ever before.

Alongside the numerous stalls and attractions, the event will also host a 'scruffs' style dog show, a dance display, a model boat display, have-a-go archery, and a free kids' play zone provided by the Vale Sports and Play development team.

Dogs can be registered for the dog show at the event and ducks can be sponsored at Food for Thought, Doctor Bob's Balloons, Giggles Toy Shop, Romilly's Café, and Snowdrop Independent Living at Cogan.

There will also be a number of one-day sponsor events where the race mascot 'Ditty the Duck' will appear.

The forthcoming events will be announced on the Rotary Club of Barry Facebook page

Exciting plans for local tennis club

BRIDGEND Lawn Tennis Club has been putting in preparations for the British tennis season by unveiling resurfaced courts amid exciting new plans.

It is hoped that the developments both on and off the court will attract members from the local community.

The club, which five years ago changed its entity from a private members' club to a community interest company, is actively seeking to encourage people to take up the sport.

It also offers a pay and play scheme, allowing local residents to pick up a racket and try out the recently refurbished courts.

Edward Wilkins, chairman of the Bridgend Association of Bowls, Tennis and Squash Clubs Community Interest Company, said: "Our ethos is to provide sport to be used by the community."

"In our endeavour to further improve our facilities, we've significantly invested in our tennis and squash courts."

"It's pleasing to note that this money was generated through fundraising by our members and also contributions from local companies, as well as through organising fundraising events."

"We've also improved significantly in our coaching infrastructure and we are very fortunate to have Stephen Richards as our coach."

"He's built a team around him and he now provides coaching for, essentially, all ages."

"Starting from young children to a new group that's been established, called 'rusty rackets'."

"That covers the requirements of the older person who used to play tennis but now wishes to retrieve the skills to start playing again."

The club currently boasts the only grass courts in Wales and is the only tennis venue that hosts open membership in the local area.

Wilkins revealed their ambitious plans for the future, which would see further lighting facilities installed on each court.

"We also have a bigger project where we would like to improve the lightning facilities of the lower courts."

"We are fortunate that we've had a grant from Sport Wales to do that so we are very grateful to them."

"We now need to receive planning permission from the council to proceed with our plans."

"That will allow us to improve on junior coaching during the winter months and will allow better access for players during that period."

"Our grass courts have been a valuable asset in recent years but we can only play on grass courts for three or four months per year."

"We've sought advice from the Lawn Tennis Association and Tennis Wales about changing the courts to all-weather, artificial clay which will allow people to play throughout the winter."

"This is a major project that will be very challenging and we're awaiting planning permission from the council. We hope they will support us."

"Our ambitions aren't for any personal gain but to enhance our facilities for the community. We're now the only tennis facility which has open membership in the locality of Bridgend."

More than 350 members are involved across the tennis, squash and bowls sections and Wilkins says the club are hoping to build on that figure this summer with all ages and abilities encouraged to join.

He added: "We are also very fortunate that we have a vibrant squash section. We have recently introduced a junior section and offer coaching and training for youngsters."

"We also have a well-maintained bowling surface and are keen to encourage younger people who wish to play bowls to join."

"We want to welcome members of the community, including all ages and abilities."

Blackmill farm to host breeding project event

A south Wales sheep farm is hosting a free open event on Thursday, July 4 to showcase the benefits of the Ram Compare project to commercial farmers.

Rhys and Russel Edwards, who farm at Hendre Ifan Goch in Blackmill, Bridgend, will be sharing their experiences of being part of the revolutionary RamCompare project, highlighting the advantages of understanding ram breeding traits which can ultimately help farmers meet target specifications.

RamCompare is the UK's commercial progeny test and enables performance recorded lambs to be tested in commercial conditions – allowing animals to be compared irrespective of breed.

The five-year project is funded by a range of industry organisations and partners, including Hybu Cig Cymru – Meat Promotion Wales (HCC) – Wales red meat levy board through a joint ring-fence fund with QMS and AHDB.

Hendre Ifan Goch is one of nine commercial farms participating in the project. Rhys and Russel have been involved since 2017 and are eager to share their approach with other commercial farmers. Rhys said: "Our approach to the business is to focus on detail and by being involved in RamCompare and using the Estimated Breeding Values (EBVs) and the genetics available in this project, we've gained a better understanding of what works best on our farm and ultimately have produced more uniform and consistent lambs."

HCC's Flock Genetics Executive Gwawr Parry said: "This open event is a great opportunity for commercial farmers to see how using EBVs and different rams can make an important impact on productivity and efficiency."

@I would urge any farmer who is interested to come along."

The event at Hendre Ifan Goch (CF35 6EN) starts at 4pm on July 4. The evening will commence with introductions from Gwawr Parry from HCC and Emma Steele from AHDB on the RamCompare project at 4pm, followed by an overview of Hendre Ifan Goch by Rhys Edwards.

The event will also include a farm walk and Q&A session before finishing with a cold buffet supper.

Farmers can register for the event by contacting HCC on 01970 625050 or info@hccmpw.org.uk.

Last few seats left for Windsor!

THE forthcoming coach trip to Windsor, organised by St Illtyd's Church on Saturday, July 13 is proving a runaway success.

So successful, in fact, that a larger coach has been booked, but only a few seats remain.

Tickets for the trip cost £20 and the coach will leave from outside St Illtyd's in Newcastle at 8am, departing Windsor at 5pm.

Those on the trip, which is open to parishioners and non-parishioners alike, will have the day to wander through the historic market town, visit Windsor Castle, take in the Long Walk, view St George's Chapel (considered by the historian John Martin Robinson to be "... one of the supreme achievements of English Perpendicular Gothic" design), and enjoy myriad gift shops, tea rooms, and restaurants.

Changing the Windsor Castle Guard takes place at 11am, and with a clear M4 and a tailwind, it should be possible to see this splendid event.

You might even be able to see The Queen.

Parish priest Father David Lloyd said: "We are all delighted that this trip, to a new destination for us, is proving so successful."

"Just a few seats are left, so get in touch to book a seat, and remember, you don't have to be a parishioner to join us on what will be another super day out."

For more information, search for @saintilltyd-bridgend on Facebook or call 01656 655999.

Tickets are also available at the church.

Sam Davies ward could close at Barry Hospital

A WARD at Barry Hospital could be closed after a review into bed capacity has taken place.

The GEM understands the Sam Davies ward, described on the NHS Wales website as 'a 23-bedded rehabilitation ward', could close in three months.

We contacted Cardiff and Vale University Health Board to ask what was planned.

A spokeswoman for the board said: "Cardiff and Vale UHB is committed to providing care and services appropriate for the needs of our patients.

"We are currently engaging with staff on improving the pathway for frail older people which will maintain the individual's independence and improve their recovery journey to get them home more quickly."

"Part of this engagement involves reviewing the bed capacity at Barry Hospital for older patients so they receive the appropriate care pathway for their needs and spend less time in a hospital setting."

Group's call for 'climate emergency'

BARRY Action for Nature have launched an online petition calling on the Vale Council and Barry Town Council to declare a 'climate emergency' in order for them to take urgent action to tackle the looming climate crisis facing the natural world.

Councils across the country are responding by declaring a 'climate emergency' and committing the resources needed to address it. London, Liverpool, Bristol, Newport and 23 other local authorities have already passed motions declaring a climate emergency. Barry Action for Nature believe that Barry and the Vale should also take action.

The chairman of Barry Action for Nature, Rob Curtis, added: "Barry and the Vale are coastal local authorities and as such are extremely vulnerable to climate change. We are calling on politicians of all political parties and none to work together and show some true leadership."

"Over 90 councils have already passed climate emergency motions, we must play our part. But we must also hold our politicians to account to make sure they deliver the resources and political will to deliver real change."

To sign the petition, visit you.38degrees.org.uk/petitions/climate-emergency-time-for-action.

Tom Channon's memory will live on through campaign to make young people safe abroad

A RHOOSE couple whose son died in a tragic fall in Spain last year are launching a safety campaign to protect young people who are going abroad for the first time.

Tom Channon (18) fell 70 feet over an unprotected knee-high wall at an apartment complex in Magaluf. He had been making his way back to his hotel in the darkness and took a wrong turn into a small car park area with a fatal drop on one side. Another tourist, Tom Hughes from Wrexham, had died in almost the same spot a few weeks earlier.

Now, despite their own pain and anguish, John and Ceri Channon are anxious to ensure other young people are kept safe in unfamiliar locations abroad. Tom was a special young man with a bright future ahead of him.

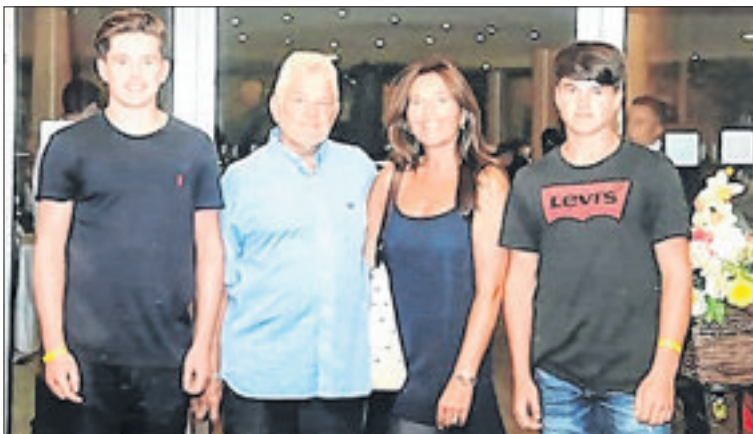

His father John said: "It was absolutely tragic. Tom was a lovely lad, well liked by all and wouldn't hurt a soul. He was a fantastic son and brother."

"He loved football and tennis. He played football for clubs in Rhose and Barry, and was a member of Barry Tennis Club and Penarth Tennis Club. He attended Rhose Primary School, St Richard Gwyn and St David's Catholic College. Unknown to him, he had got fantastic A-Level grades. I work in international economic development and he had wanted to follow me into development economics."

Tom had been offered a place at university, but the advice of tutors was to remain at St David's a little longer and get a key qualification. John explained: "He was going to stay on for another year to get advanced mathematics under his belt which would have opened up a huge choice of jobs."

Tom was in Spain last July celebrating with friends after completing his A-Levels. On the night he fell, he had been drinking, but his alcohol levels were below twice the drink drive limit and there were no drugs in his system.

John said: "St David's College has offered to help our campaign. We aim to target schools and colleges emphasising safety issues abroad. The message is 'stay safe and stay together' in unfamiliar territory."

It is okay to have a good time – but it is not the same as the familiar surroundings at home and there could be dangers that young people might not be aware of."

The Welsh Government is lending its support to the campaign. Last week, the family had to undergo the pain and distress of the inquest, but John was pleased that the coroner, Graeme Hughes, had pointed out that a few simple steps could have avoided the tragedy.

The coroner noted that Tom was intoxicated and tired, but not out of control. He said it was tragic that a simple fence hadn't been erected following the death of the man a month earlier.

Astonishingly, it was only after a visit by John that a safety fence was put up, and finally a permanent wall. John said: "What has been hurtful to us is that not a single owner in the apartment block has offered their condolences."

Back home in Wales, the family have the considerable comfort that there have been a number of memorials set up to Tom. St David's College has instituted a prize for academic achievement in his name along with a memorial garden and a 'Tom Channon Lecture Room'. Tom worked part-time at Ikea and colleagues there planted a tree in his memory and dedicated a bench with a plaque in his memory. Similar tributes have been undertaken at St Richard Gwyn School and at Fontygary Leisure Park where Tom spent many happy hours.

But perhaps the greatest tribute to him will be the family's campaign to make the UK's young people safer abroad and prevent a similar tragedy from happening again in the future.

Scouts 2019 Annual Fete Saturday 6th July 2019

WE DISCOVER, WE GROW
Girlguiding

We want to break a world record and need your help!

AT this year's Scout and Guide fete in Barry on July 6 at Romilly Park, Scouts and Guides are looking to break the world record for the largest number of people inside a Fleur de Lis (also known as the Scout sign).

The world record is currently held by Carfest North UK and consists of 445 participants.

The formation was held for more than five minutes with Bear Grylls making an appearance.

With the Barry Scout and Guide fete known to be the largest in the UK, we should easily break this record. Scouts and Guides are looking forward to welcoming as many people as possible to this year's fete and are inviting the public to join them in breaking the world record attempt.

The fete is a great day out for all the family. Entrance is by a lucky prize draw programme which can be bought from a local Scout and Guide group or £2 per person at the gate on the day.

Under 5s are free. The Barry Scout and Guide fete is now in its 66th year and has only ever been cancelled twice.

The first Scout fete was held at Romilly Park in 1933 when it was called a Kymspaumi.

The fete was resurrected after the Second World War when groups needed funds and is still a major source of income for Scouts and Guides.

It costs more than £120,000 a year to run the Scout and Guide groups.

All our leaders are volunteers and would cost over £100,000 a year if they were to be paid for the work that they do.

Our adults volunteer because they enjoy developing the youth of our town, have fun and learn new skills along the way.

If you would like to know how to become part of a great team and support the future of our youth please see below.

Toy Story 4 gives you all you could want from a movie!

AS trilogy closers go, Toy Story 3 was damn near perfection. The culmination of three films following the adventures of Woody, Buzz Lightyear et al, it ended in such a beautiful way that you couldn't help but feel a little (or a lot) of moisture around the eyes.

It was something of a surprise when Toy Story 4 was announced, but whether it's a worthy addition to the series or an example of cashing in on an established property we'll find out as it hits cinemas.

Having been re-homed with Bonnie at the end of the last film, the toys welcome a newcomer, Forky (voiced by Tony Hale) who Bonnie has created herself.

When Forky begins suffering from an identity crisis, a road trip goes horribly wrong when he leaps out of the car, with Woody (Tom Hanks) chasing after him.

Together the pair must try and return home, though with Buzz (Tim Allen) and co. chasing after them, and an old face from Woody's past showing up, things won't be easy...

Pixar's films have always had adult concerns wrapped up in child-friendly packaging, a smart technique that has seen their films last across the generations; after all, it's incredible to think that the original Toy Story was released in 1995, meaning that this latest outing is likely to be enjoyed by, at least, two generations (particularly the two-month old who was in the screening I attended).

So, given the way the third part wrapped up, does Toy Story 4 feel like a worthwhile addition or just a case of Disney and Pixar leaning heavily on a box office certainty?

Happily, it's a case of the former, a film that, given the weight of expectation that comes with it, handles it with ease and a light touch, while simultaneously digging into some quite heavy subject matter, albeit framed by toys.

This is a film that rests heavily on the shoulders of Woody; since his, and the rest of the toys', re-homing with Bonnie, Woody has become a little forgotten about, and this is a film that deals with the passing of time, his place in the larger world and what happens when people grow up.

There are equally deep and meaningful subplots about rejected toys, being there for your friends and realising what you think is best isn't always the answer, subject matter that wouldn't be out of place were it to pop up in a live-action drama.

While some of the background characters aren't given much to do (I will continue to lament the paucity of Mr Prickle Pants), this is a film that goes full circle to the first film, the relationship with Woody and Forky replicating that of Woody and Buzz.

It draws the best out

SCREEN TALK with GARETH JAMIESON

Follow Screen Talk on Twitter - @GEMScreenTalk

of the voice cast – Tom Hanks is brilliant as Woody, getting to grips with his place in the new order of things, while Tim Allen's Buzz again manages to balance compositing with heart.

Annie Potts is superb as the returning Bo Peep, a renegade toy who shows Woody there's more to life than being a child's toy, while newcomers Tony Hale as the Woody Allen-esque fork, Christina Hendricks as an antique toy with an agenda, Jordan Peele and Keegan-Michael Key as a pair of smart-mouthed plush toys with a vivid imagination and Keanu Reeves' amazing Canadian stuntman Duke Caboom all bring something to the table.

Visually Pixar keep pushing the envelope, and the CGI animation is beyond flawless; the world created has its own distinct visual feel but the vividness and realism on show is a credit to all involved.

The plot twists and turns may be sometimes a little too much, but the ambition from the writers is admirable, going for something more interesting than a simple A-B-C plot, while director Josh Cooley belies his lack of experience with an assured debut, maintaining the tone and feel of what has gone before without slavishly reheating beats from the previous films.

Given that Pixar has said that they will only be concentrating on standalone films from now on, it means that this is likely to be the final Toy Story film – but what a way to go out.

Heartwarming, fun, humorous and satisfying from beginning to end, Toy Story 4 is a great success!

VERDICT: Every bit as beautiful, funny, smart and emotional as you could have hoped for, Toy Story 4 delivers all you could want from this film. There's real heart and feeling to the story, and it's tremendous and moving effort that is truly worth your time. Highly recommended.

SEE THIS IF YOU LIKED: Toy Story 3 (2010), Inside Out (2015).

This review marks my last as The GEM's film critic, something I've been doing since 2005 (trivia note – my first review was Tim Burton's Charlie & The Chocolate Factory). I've loved every minute of giving my views on the latest films, and hope you have enjoyed the critique, if not the films themselves! Thank you very much for reading.*

Music fans will be spoilt for choice at Festival

TICKETS go on sale soon for the tenth anniversary of Cowbridge Music Festival.

Taking place over the middle two weeks of September, the festival promises to be bigger and better than ever with 19 classical, folk and jazz events being held throughout the town and 11 community outreach concerts in Vale schools and care homes.

Classical music lovers will be spoilt for choice with saxophonist Jess Gillam, pianist Llŷr Williams, the Aronowitz Piano Trio and the world famous Tenebrae Consort.

Due to popular demand jazz guitarist Remi Harris and jazz clarinetist Julian Bliss both return to the festival, and the Budapest Cafe Orchestra led by dazzling jazz violinist Christian Garrick make their first and much-anticipated appearance.

Completing the main programme of events is Syrian qanun player Maya Youssef, who performs her life-affirming compositions and brings a powerful message of hope from her war-torn country. The Fringe, now in its second year, will be made up of live jazz events at The Bear Hotel and Oscars, a free concert showcasing young Welsh musicians, a free harp recital at the Library, a Twmpath at the Duke of Wellington and a concert/sing-along with Cor Meibion y Machlud at the Town Hall.

Cowbridge Music Festival will take place from September 6-21 and tickets go on sale on Monday, July 1.

Nominate a volunteer for one of BAVO's awards

BRIDGEND Association of Voluntary Organisations (BAVO) wants to recognise and honour outstanding people and organisations that have made a significant contribution to our community during the past year and they want to hear from you!

A spokeswoman said: "Do you know any individual or group who has made an outstanding contribution to their community? Would you like to help give them the recognition they deserve?"

"Every year, thousands of individuals and groups volunteer across Bridgend county borough to give their time, energy, skills and commitment to help others in their community.

BAVO is holding their annual Bridgend Volunteer Achievement Awards 2019 in November at the Heronston Hotel in Bridgend, which will provide an ideal opportunity to recognise and thank volunteers in the county borough.

There are eight categories including awards for charity shop of the year, befriending and mentoring, volunteers aged under and over 25 years, trustee of the year, volunteer project of the year, sports volunteer and outstanding volunteer contribution.

The deadline for nominations is 12pm on Wednesday, July 31; for nomination forms visit www.bavo.org.uk or call BAVO's Bridgend Volunteer Centre, on 01656 810400..

Rotary's support for local charities

Crisis Wales fundraising manager Jo Leonard with members of Cowbridge Rotary Club in the town's Physic Garden.

NOT gale force winds nor relentless rain can dampen the spirits of Cowbridge Rotary when it comes to raising funds for charity or lending a helping hand to support local communities.

So, the especially unpredictable weather of our summer so far, served only to see Rotary members donning all-weather gear and springing into action to ensure the 2019 Rotary Spring Gardens event, in aid of three charities, CRISIS

"Together we will end Homelessness", Y Bont, 'Enabling Children with a Disability to fulfil their Potential' and The Samaritans, 'Let's Talk', was nothing short of a huge success.

Crisis Wales fundraising manager Jo Leonard was the first of the three nominated charities, to be presented with a cheque for £2,000 by Rotary president Michael Long, to support the exceptional work the charity is doing to help homeless people put their lives back together again.

Michael said: "Homelessness is, sadly, a growing problem everywhere, which is why I chose Crisis Wales as one of my three nominated charities for my presidential term.

"We will also be making equivalent donations to the Y Bont and The Samaritans initiatives over the next week or two, and I am delighted that Cowbridge Rotary has been able to play a part in supporting the tremendous work going on to help improve the lives of some of the most vulnerable people in our communities."

"Rotary is dedicated to raising funds for good causes and providing support and service to our local communities, and seeing the difference those efforts can bring is a heart-warming experience."

"Thanks to the support of the people of the Vale,

Hygiene Bank helps homeless

RESIDENTS at the Vale of Glamorgan Council's Ty Iolo hostel have benefited from donations from The Hygiene Bank, an organisation that provides personal care items to those that need them most.

Ty Iolo offers individuals facing homelessness accommodation in a 21-room complex, each with its own bathroom and four offering disabled access. It also has a lounge and large kitchen.

The Hygiene Bank's Wales Coordinator Caroline Volrath recently offered products to those staying there.

The donations have gone to families and vulnerable single people and include sanitary products, shampoo, shower gel, toothpaste, shaving kit and nappies.

The Hygiene Bank is a national charity that began in the south east, inspired by the Ken Loach film I, Daniel Blake, which highlighted how badly individuals in certain circumstances need personal products.

CLR Ben Gray, Vale Council Cabinet Member for Health and Social Care, said: "Ty Iolo is a fantastic service that offers some of the Vale's most vulnerable residents support when they need it most. It provides assistance to those in desperate situations and this partnership with The Hygiene Bank only adds to the help available.

"We are extremely grateful to Caroline for the generous donations received so far. They have made a real difference to the recipients."

Caroline, from Bonvilston, established the charity in Wales and soon after partnered with Ty Iolo.

The Hygiene Bank encourages the community to donate new, unopened toiletries and essential beauty grooming products via collection boxes situated in shops, service providers and public services.

Members of the public are also encouraged to be collectors for their office, sporting group, friends and family. The products are then reboxed or bagged according to type and distributed to charity partners, who in turn give them out to families and individuals in crisis.

To donate, contact Caroline at thbwales@gmail.com

Family Notices

WEIRPhilip David John
(Ooodle)

It is with great sadness that the family announce the passing of Philip, aged 66 years, on 16th June. Philip will be well-known for his time as a teacher in Barry and the founder of 'The Old Record Club'. Devoted partner to Pauline, cherished son of Val and the late David John Weir. Loving brother of Lynne and a devoted uncle to Victoria, Alexandra and their families.

Philip will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved him.

Resting in the care of Lyndsay Ellis @ The Vale Funeral Service until a celebration of Philip's life at All Saints Church, Barry on Monday, 8th July at 12.15pm, followed by cremation at Cardiff & Glamorgan Crematorium, Port Road, Barry. Family floral tributes only. Donations, if desired, may be made at the service to support Barry Dock RNLI in memory of Philip.

JONESBarrie Yorath

Peacefully at the University of Hospital Wales on 19th June, aged 74 years. Beloved husband of Rosalie and loving father to Louise and Kathryn.

Resting at W.A. Brown Funeralcare, Llantwit Major until the service at 3.45pm on Tuesday, 2nd July at Coychurch Crematorium, Bridgend.

Cup win for Cowbridge mid-week team against Cardiff in T20 Cup

COWBRIDGE Cricket Club travelled to Cardiff to play in the quarter final of the Vale Mid Week T20 Cup competition and returned with a lot of glory.

Asked to bat first on a firm wicket, the two Jacks produced varying innings to compile most of the runs.

Jack Cropper opened the innings and scored a breezy 37 runs, of which 36 were scored in 45.

When he departed, Jack Davies took a more modest performance and ended on 50 runs not out in a total of 133 for five.

In reply, Cardiff had a good opening stand of 46 by S Jones 24 and J Meggit, also with 24.

Cowbridge bowled a good line and length complemented by excellent fielding making scoring difficult for the home team.

The introduction of off spin Jack Davies slowed the scoring even more and though he was hit for 14 runs in his first over, he redeemed himself to finish with three for 20.

Young Lewis Sevenoaks had his best game to date when he took an overhead catch of the highest order at deep long on. With Cardiff needing to up the scoring rate, his left arm medium pace bowling kept the Cardiff batsmen quiet as also Tom Williams from the other end, both finishing their four overs for just 20 runs.

In the end, Cardiff could only reach 117 for five and Cowbridge go through to the semi final with a 16 run victory.

Cowbridge play next week away to Pentyrch in the league.

A very busy week for Cowbridge bowlers

LAST week was the busiest of the season for Cowbridge Bowls Club's lady bowlers.

It was a good week overall with Cowbridge gaining maximum points in three home games and four points in an away league game.

On Monday, June 17, Dinas Powis ladies were the visitors in the two rink Evening League.

Rink scores: Jean Hunt, Joan Bradley, Helen Nixon and Shirley Wilkinson 19-10; Diane Purnell, Maggie Penn, Dorothy Pritchard and Elaine Dobie 16-9. Match score: Cowbridge 35, Dinas Powis 19.

The following day Llantwit Major ladies played Cowbridge in a Cowbridge Shield Match.

Rink scores: Diane Purnell, Corrie Bufton, Caryl Davies and Joy Woolford 19-6; Helana Snelling, Margaret Cooper, Maggie Penn and Dorothy Pritchard 15-10; Mary Dowdle, Tina Payne, Shirley Wilkinson and Lin Wallace 16-11. Match score: Cowbridge 50, Llantwit Major 27.

Next day, again at home, in a rearranged Cowbridge Shield match, Pencoe Ladies were the visitors.

Rink scores: Lynda Wilson, Corrie Bufton, Elaine Dobie and Joy Woolford 16-13.5; Mary Dowdle, Kay Edwards and Caryl Davies 18.75-6; Tina Payne, Margaret Cooper, Helana Snelling and Dorothy Pritchard 25-12. Match score: Cowbridge 59.75, Pencoe 31.5.

The ladies finished off the week with good result away to Penarth Rectory Road.

Although losing overall, four valuable away points were earned with wins on two of the three rinks.

Rink scores: Dorothy Pritchard, Mearl Owen, Caryl Davies and Lynda Wilson 8-32; Mary Dowdle, Joan Bradley, Joy Woolford and Helen Nixon 15-13; Tina Payne, Diane Purnell and Kay Edwards 14.25-11. Match score: Cowbridge 37.25, Penarth 56.

The men played in three competitions.

First up, in the Munro Cup, they were away to Barry Romilly. Records show that Cowbridge usually come second at the Rom and this was the case last Wednesday, losing on all four rinks.

Captain Norman Wilkinson's quartet of Terry Dunsworth, John Collin, Ken Payne and Norman put up a spirited performance, losing their battle by just four shots.

The following day a home Evening League Triples game against Gilfach Goch saw Cowbridge losing overall but winning on two of the rinks.

Rink scores: Mike Fahey, Ken Payne and Andrew Morgan 19-12; Stan Harding, Terry Foley and Clive Pritchard 6-23; Alan Jordan, John Collin and Colin Wilson 13-17; Bryan Hole, John Nixon and Alan Wallace 18-16. Match score: Cowbridge 56, Gilfach Goch 68.

The men, playing in their last game of the week, welcomed the Rummy club from Cardiff to Cowbridge.

It was always going to be an uphill task for Rummy who were not able to field a full team and were a player short on each rink. Cowbridge had a two wood advantage on each rink and ran out easy winners on all four.

Rink score: Ron Dobie, Ken Payne, Colin Pritchard and Alan Wallace 35-11; Gerry Lloyd, John Collin, John Nixon and Bob Penn 34-6; Terry Dunsworth, Bryan Hole, Colin Wilson and Norman Wilkinson 42-10; Alan Jordan, Terry Foley, Andrew Morgan and Roger Barwick 26-14. Match score: Cowbridge 137, Rummy 41.

Finally the ladies teams and the men's teams have a run of away matches early next month. It would help the selectors if more members made themselves available for selection so that full teams are selected in all matches.

First round of championship at chess club and all still to play for

THE first round of the Barry Chess Club Championship took place this week - five games were completed.

There were no draws and five evenly-contested matches.

The lower ranked players all fought hard with Erion Pici being the surprise player to beat a much higher-ranked player - earning 43 ratings points in the process.

Mention should also be made about the performance of Ieuan Thomas. He was two pawns ahead and seemingly winning until his queen was pinned. This was the last match to finish on the night.

These performances auger well for the Stauntons in Division Four next season.

The Barry Chess Club meets at 7.30pm each Monday at the West End Club, St Nicholas Road, Barry, CF62 6QY.

The club is open to players of all standards; whether you are interested in playing competitive chess or just the occasional friendly games.

New players are very welcome to just turn up on the night but if you contact one of the club members through the website we can explain what is happening on the night you have in mind, and arrange for someone to greet you on your arrival.

For more details visit our website at barry-chessclub.yolasite.com.

European limelight shines on Barry Town

T O N I G H T (Thursday) Barry Town United will play UEFA Europa League football, realising a dream many will have considered beyond the realm of possibility, even a few short seasons ago.

Opponents Cliftonville will pose a stern test in Thursday's first leg at Leckwith Stadium, the NIFL Premiership play-off winners coming to Wales with full intent of taking a result across the Irish Sea.

Kick-off is at 6.30pm and supporters can buy tickets on the day from the Cardiff City Stadium ticket office. It is a ticket-only game.

Meanwhile, Barry have been given 300 tickets for the second leg at Solitude, Belfast on July 4, with members and season ticket holders able to purchase two each on Friday at Jenner Park (4pm-8pm) and the remainder on general sale on Saturday (12pm-6pm) to those with proof of booked travel.

In the build-up to Thursday's match, various tales of European nights of yesteryear have been shared, from Mike Cosslett driving a fire engine to Jenner Park for the famous encounter with Aberdeen, to six-year old Kayne McLaggon scaling the walls for a glimpse of the Euro action.

This Thursday and next, McLaggon and his Town teammates have their inaugural opportunity to etch their names in the club's European history books, a place where Richard Jones' sumptuous strike at Pittodrie, Eifion Williams' headed equaliser against Dynamo Kiev and Lee Phillips' historic winner in Baku, Azerbaijan continue to resonate with a host of Town supporters, old and young.

Including their wins over Dinaburg, Budapest Vasutas and, notoriously, FC Porto, Thursday's fixture will be Barry's 25th European matchday in the space of 25 years, yet few statistics could be more misleading, given the club's long and arduous struggle to return to this eminent stage.

In July 2003, Adebayo Akinfenwa and his Town teammates left Europe with their heads held high, winning 2-1 against Vardar Skopje at Jenner Park, albeit after a decisive 3-0 defeat in Macedonia.

By the end of August, any European dreams seemed a million miles away. Indeed, only the intervention of Vale Premier winners N and M Construction and a handful of local league colleagues ensured plummeting Town could continue on with their domestic campaign.

Now, Town prepare for Europe again, with so many players integral to this emotional journey back. With local lads like McLaggon, Curtis Watkins and Drew Fahia handed a precious chance to emulate Barry's European heroes of yesterday, the likes of Paul Morgan, Lewis Cosslett and Troy Greening have all been part of Barry's team when it looked like there might not be a team at all.

Joining them for the next chapter are the returning Callum Sainty and promising goal-keeper George Radcliffe, a loan acquisition from neighbours Cardiff City, with Wales under-21 international experience.

The club's confirmation of these signings brings their summer recruitment to four, with defender Luke Cummings and winger Jack Compton each set to contend for their first competitive starts.

For Barry, the hour indeed is night. It's been a long road to get here. But where it goes from here is limitless.

AC

Huw does the double at Brynhill Golf Club

IT was a busy weekend of golf at Brynhill, which kicked off with the annual Festival Texas Scramble.

The top team on the day were Cael Penberthy, Nathan Clissold, Dave Stephenson and Calvin McLaggon, whose 58.5 was good enough see off the competition. The top ladies team, with 68, was Linda Hewlett, Robbie Lee, Glynis Gould and Helena Coombes.

On Sunday it was back to more serious business with the Bob Hope Trophy and Tennessee Cup on the line, the former being a handicap contest while the latter was played off scratch.

Eight handicapper Huw Vaughan won the 'Tennessee' with a magnificent level par 72 and when his eight shots were removed his net 64, seven better than second-placed Paddy Moore, meant he had romped the 'Bob' as well.

It's a certainty Huw won't have the luxury of 8 shots next weekend, when once again two prizes are up for grabs - the Queen's Coronation Cup for golfers and the Victory Trophy for the hackerati.

With both being stroke play medals there's precious little room for error but, as always at Brynhill, golf will be the real winner.

AS

Soccer sixes at Jenner Park

A NEWLY-formed six-a-side football league plays at Jenner Park on Monday nights between 8pm-10pm.

It is fully insured and run by top officials. It is a good opportunity for teams to use the league as training, and it will run all year round.

Bridgend Bridge Club

A TEAM representing Bridgend Bridge Club were second in the national Teams Of Eight competition recently.

Congratulations to Mike Best, Kevin Maddox, John Evans, Steve Burgoyne, Tony Ratcliff, Julian Pottage, and Jeff Barnett; second, Laura Woodruff, Frances Heslin and Michael Close. The latest results for Bridgend Bridge Club are: June 19: First, Rob Forman and Alan Heath; second, Norma and David Newman; third, Steve Burgoyne and Linda Pinnock. June 20: First, Eileen Mahoney and David Newman; second, Linda Pinnock and Bill Turner; third, Simon Ratcliff, and Debbie Richards.

Cowbridge Tennis on winning streak

ANOTHER week, another clean sweep as all four teams in action for CLTC over the weekend won their matches, to continue the promotion push for CLTC this summer.

Team of the week were the ladies' thirds who were playing the league leaders Mackintosh. This was a vital match to maintain an even keel in the battle for the two promotion spots. A wily selection by the captain, Kate Button, blended youth and experience.

Our youth coaching paid off with juniors Lily Buick and Ella Davies leading the way at first pair, with the 'ages withheld to protect the innocent' age blended pairings of Elaine Osborne and Leah James and Jenny Lord and Beth Heald each winning one of their two matches.

This meant we were able to pip Mackintosh in a 3-3 all winning draw with sets also tied at six apiece, so a nervous countback revealed a 56 to 52 game winning margin. Perhaps Jenny's encouragement to Beth helped them to a vital 6-1 win in their final set to swing the balance.

The ladies' first remain unbeaten in division 2 after a close 4-2 win over Dinas Powys. Similarly, the men's thirds remain unbeaten in division 5 following a 6-0 win over close neighbours Llantrisant.

Meanwhile, just over the hill in Penryrch the men's seconds kept the pressure up at the top of division 2 with a 6-0 win over Pentrych.

The men's firsts travelled to Treorchy and finished their match in the pouring rain but will be very pleased to have come away with a winning 3-all draw by courtesy of winning two more sets.

The club has a thriving membership and there are opportunities for all to play most nights, Saturday afternoons and ladies' mornings so you can play where you feel most comfortable.

We are a friendly family oriented club and are always welcoming new members.

Keith's sub-par round takes prize

THE 50th Year Anniversary Cup is one of the sought-after trophies in the golfing calendar at Wenvoe Castle Golf Club.

The competition, now in its 33rd year always attracts a large entry, and this year was no exception.

The demanding format is a fourball better ball medal competition and both men and ladies are eligible to compete year after year, so there is always a close finish.

The top score of net 63 was posted by three pairs and count back over the last nine holes was used to separate them, with David Farmer and Andrew Tailby clinching the trophy by the narrowest of margins. Runners-up were Craig Chalmers and Ryan Cox just holding off Paul McCarthy and Alex Morgan.

Blair Drummond was delighted to score a hole in one on the par 3 second hole and was roundly cheered by all the members standing close to the bar, helping him to celebrate his achievement. Sunday was an equally busy day with the men competing for two honours board competitions.

The LG Fellows and

Viv Jones Tankards are for 0-12 and 13-24 handicap groups and it was again a challenging medal competition, with players having to contend with significant rain during the day.

Despite the wet conditions an excellent gross 70 saw Keith Stimpson take the first prize with a net 67 in the lower handicap category.

Keith's superb round included four birdies, 12 pars and dropping just a single stroke on the other two holes.

Howard Norman followed him home with a 78 net 67, just ahead of the consistent Kevin Knowles, who posted a 77 net 70.

In the higher handicap group, the winner was Chris Chalmers with an 89 net 71 and Richard Marden just missed out as runner-up with 85 net 72. Gerry Carter took third place with 92 net 74.

The ladies took part in a nine-hole qualifier and Mags Lewis posted a score of 16 points, ahead of Jackie Jones with 15 points.

The men's seniors' Stableford competition was held the following day and John Dudley played well to win with 38 points, with Phil Walker second on 36 points.

Vale Cricket Firsts slip up but stay top

VALE CC first XI travelled to Lisvane in their South East Wales Division Three encounter.

On a good looking track that ended up playing very low with little bounce, Vale fielded first after losing the toss.

Openers Darren Upham (1-36) and Dean Oram (0-43) started and found things difficult. A run out in the 15th over by captain Brendan McCay saw the first wicket fall and at the halfway point, Lisvane were 103-2 with Darren Upham claiming the wicket of Williams (34) having his son take the catch.

Gethin Merry (2-20) took two well-deserved wickets in his first first XI game of the season. Merry bowled with precision and a yard more pace than last season, which is an excellent sign for this young developing cricketer. Jimbo Thomas (0-40) bowled well and was unlucky not to claim a wicket. Fellow spinner Alex Upham (0-36) was unable to add to this season's tally but Sean Rowland endured some aggressive end of innings hitting but claimed two wickets, finishing with 2-40.

After tea, Vale started their chase of 231 to win but it did not get off to the best of starts as Matthew Thomas (12) was out lbw in the third over.

Dean Oram (10) followed suit three overs later with the score at 31-2 after 6 overs. Alex Upham (17), Snelson (2) and McCay (6) all went in quick succession leaving Vale 57-5 after 13 overs.

Keeper Withers (27) and Rowland (31) added 61 runs for the sixth wicket, batting patiently and taking Vale closer to their target. Rowland and Withers both fell within an over of each other, meaning Vale had 122-7 with 15 overs to go.

Merry (21), Humphreys (14) and Thomas (20) all made valid contributions as did number 11 Darren Upham (6no) but Vale fell short as they aimed to chase down their target.

On a different day, Vale may well have ended up chasing the total down with more wickets in the shed but that is little good to them now. They ended the game 199 all out and only 32 runs away from winning the game with three overs remaining.

The middle and late order did an excellent job in trying to rebuild the innings and get Vale closer but it was not destined to be their day.

Despite this loss Vale sit top of the table and move on to entertaining Hopkinstown in Corntown this week.

Vale CC seconds skipper Mark Francis won the toss and elected to bat first on a glorious warm day in Corntown.

Vale made good progress with new opening pair Gareth Kelland and Idris Merry taking the score to 37 before Merry was caught for 14. Francis and Steve Hiles departed quickly for a run apiece and Vale were in the unaccustomed position of being three wickets down without 50 on the board.

This brought Ian Clewley to join Kelland at the wicket and these two compiled a splendid 131-run partnership to put Vale back on track to notch a total of 200-plus. Clewley's powerful innings included two big sixes before he was bowled for 57.

Kelland continued to accumulate runs steadily, playing some nice shots all round the wicket and running well between the wickets. He finally fell trying to find the boundary in the 37th over for an excellent innings of 85. Vale's innings fell away and from being 165-3 in the 32nd over Vale ended up being bowled out for 192 in the 40th.

For Cefn Fforest Joe Bal 3-39 and Keith Hudson 3-23 were the most successful bowlers.

Cefn started brightly and with positive intent against Vale's opening attack of Merry and Greg Andrews at five an over but this was checked as Merry took two wickets within his first three overs.

However, D Evans and S Matheson then compiled a 58 run partnership to steady the ship. Francis introduced the ever-reliable Tom Lazarus and young Sam Sheppard and these two dried up the run rate.

It was Sheppard who got the crucial breakthrough, removing Evans and Lazarus soon followed suit getting a breakthrough of his own and Cefn were 79-4 with an uphill struggle to reach their target.

This was compounded in the 24th over as Lazarus, bowling his last over, took three wickets, reducing Cefn to 91-7. These two had bowled superb spells with Lazarus finishing with figures of 8-1-21-4 and the impressive Sheppard 8-2-12-1.

Merry returned to take another two wickets with a variety of back of the hand slower balls to finish with good figures of 8-3-28-4. The final act was left to Paul Sheppard who, having had a catch behind dropped off his first ball, was left relieved when five balls later keeper Ashley Taylor made no mistake with the stumping chance presented to him.

A good all-round bowling performance was backed in the field with Taylor taking two catches and good catches held by Andy Knight, Andrews and Skipper Francis. This leaves Vale seconds in top spot and very much on the promotion trail.

Vale Bridgend Ford second XI man of the match was awarded to Gareth Kelland for his excellent innings.

Vale third XI captain Paul Gilbert won the toss and chose to field, with visitors Croesyceiliog third XI getting off to a measured start in Wick.

Opening bowler Jack Reilly (8-0-33-1) finally found the breakthrough in the seventh over, bowling S Webber for 6 with the score on 29. Vale had to wait until after the drinks break for another, Iestyn Fenn (5-0-38-2) getting the wicket of M Lewis (18) before also claiming G Ford's (0) wicket in the same over, this time a catch by Chris Haskins.

Kenny Thomas (5-1-21-0) bowled well but chances were missed in the field and the game was getting away from Vale until finally some catches stuck! Tim Stephenson (7-1-47-2) and Catrin Stephens (5-0-33-2) claimed four wickets in the space of five crucial overs; M Griffiths (0) and L Moy (27) both off the bowling of Stephens with Stephenson removing S Webber (10) and dangerous opener Nathan Griffiths (after a superb 82), this time caught by keeper Mark Stephens.

Ben Stephenson (1-0-1-2) secured his first (and second) senior wickets in his opening over, father Tim Stephenson catching I Evans (0) and R Bean (4) was bowled with the last ball of the over. P Gilbert (6-4-0-22-1) finished off the innings, bowling J Corbett (1) with J Edmonds (0) the not out batsmen, 212 all out the innings score.

Set the target of 213 to win, Vale were pegged back early on losing Iestyn Fenn (1) in the first over, caught off the bowling of R Bean (8-1-40-2).

Fellow opener Rob Gooch sought to take hold of the game, smashing a quickfire 36 before finally being adjudged lbw in the seventh over off the bowling of M Griffiths (8-1-35-2). Vale lost two more quick wickets, Chris Haskins (2) and Mike Reilly (4), both bowled off Bean and Griffiths respectively.

Jack Reilly and Mark Stephens pulled together a much needed 49-run partnership to steady the ship, Reilly with a mature 24 runs before being bowled by L Moy (8-2-38-2) in a devastating double wicket maiden 19th over that also saw Bean take a superb catch to oust T Stephenson (0).

At 103-6, P Gilbert met Stephens in the centre and with grit, determination and a small amount of luck, they had batted themselves into a winning position and a nailbiting finish to the game.

With Vale needing seven runs off the last over, Gilbert (47 n.o.) found the boundary to win the game with one ball to spare and concluded a 107-run partnership with Stephens, who ended on a heroic and player of the match performance of 68 not out.

Looking back with Brian Lee to racing in 1993

THE GEM's Brian Lee, who has been reporting on the Welsh hunt-racing scene for the national and local press for a record 53 years, takes another look at one of his many press cuttings books.

This report on the Pentrych Hunt Point-To-Point, along with an head and shoulder picture of Cowbridge's John Llewellyn, appeared in The GEM on April 29, 1993.

Unlike the Aintree Grand National, the 12 runners in the Welsh Point-To-Point Grand National over four miles at the Pentrych Hunt Steeplechases at Llantwit Major got off to a good start.

Most of the early running was made by Tim Jones' mount Pat Stee, but the 1990 winner, 11-year-old Shuttlecock Star, drew clear after jumping the 19th of the 25 fences to win easily by 25 lengths from 13-year-old Majestic Buck.

Shuttlecock Star, who was winning for the third time this season, was ridden by Newport's Andrew Price.

The local hope, St Helen's Boy who won last year's race, trailed in fifth and last place.

Cowbridge farmer John Llewellyn landed a double with Chibougama (maiden division two) and Duke of Impney (maiden division three) to bring his career total of wins to an incredible 261.

Only two other riders in the history of the sport have ridden more winners than Llewellyn, who is surely a candidate for the Welsh Sportspeople's Hall of Fame.

Unfortunately, point-to-point racing, which produced the famed Anthony and Rees brothers, Fulke Walwyn, Hywel Davies and Carl Llewellyn, does not get a look in in the rugby and soccer-oriented press.

Llewellyn has ridden 18 winners over the Moorlands course which is two more than any other rider. David Stephens had the restricted open race all sewn up on his father's Belhelvie who made nearly all the running, but unfortunately his weight cloth came off just 10 yards from the winning post.

The race was awarded to Jon Parry Keen's mount Origami who would have been a well-beaten 20 lengths second. Stephens had quick consolation when winning the first division of the split maiden on eight-year-old Polly Pringle who had eight lengths to spare over Bachelor's Pet at the finish.

Lexden was an impressive winner of the third division under David Jones who was standing in for Robert Rowsell, who was suffering from concussion after falling from Tanegrus in the restricted open. Earlier in the day, Robert had won the members' race on his father's Castle Farm.

Joe Price made it four wins in a row on nine-year-old Taurean Tycoon who took up the running approaching the second last to win the confined race by 15 lengths from Chief Ironside.

There was a good class field for the ladies' open race which was won by Candy Thomas on Up The Lad.

I also reported that the Llangeinor Hunt Steeplechases were being held for the first time at Caegawr Farm, Bridgend, the following Saturday and that the country's leading point-to-point rider, Brunico, whom I had dubbed the 'Desert Orchid of Wales' was an intended runner for the men's open race.

Sully bowlers enjoy the sun at Barry Island

SULLY Bowling Club travelled to Barry Island on Wednesday evening on what turned out to be a beautiful night.

After rain most of the day it cleared to blue skies and a really great bowling surface at the Athletic club.

The midweek side struggled but kept trying, and through 12 ends were only six down, but then as usual faded near the end to lose by 22, with only the one rink up.

Thanks to some really good bowling from A Kelly, D Curtin, J Best and T Murphy (22-15) two points were secured; the other scores had J Hubbard, R Nethercote, A Rees and D Hotchkiss losing in the last two ends 12-15, B Danscombe, H Thomas, K Mahoney and M Hardy 8-23 and R Fitzjohn, E Pryer, P Neale and D Edwards 10-21.

Saturday saw the visit of Ynysangharad from Pontypridd visit the village, and they saw it at its best with calm seas and clear sky - we even had a fly past for them.

Last year the Villagers lost home and away to these and keeping tight heads was the order of the day.

Right from the off it was very tight, and after seven ends there was only six points in it but with one rink 10 up. On 14 ends it was two up, one square and 12 shots to the good. The home side held firm with three rinks up and were 26 shots to the good.

D Edwards' rink with B Curtis, A Rees, D Hotchkiss got in front in the last four ends and won by one, 17-16, while D Curtis' rink, with G John, J Hubbard and A Thomas won six of the last seven ends to win 27-18.

This week's special mention is for the D Lougher, D Curtin, J Best and T Murphy rink who won 17 of the 21 ends and carried the game for a 34-5 win.

A really great display of bowling; A Smith, H Thomas, M Hardy and B Griffiths lost 8-21.

This week sees the Villagers play Gelli Park on Saturday.

Promotion season recognised at Barry RFC's end of season awards

BARRY Rugby Club held their annual awards evening at the clubhouse last Saturday.

Players and supporters alike filled the club to celebrate an outstanding season where they gained promotion to Division 1 for the first time in the club's history.

In a change to the usual guest speaker, this year the club were entertained by comedian Paul James, whose risqué sense of humour was well received by an appreciative audience.

Brian Davies, a captain of the club in the late 1990s and now elite performance director for the Sports Council for Wales joined the gathering to present the awards.

Peter Froud provided an enjoyable meal once again, and thanks go to him and his hard-working staff. As ever Carol and her staff kept the bar ticking over until the early hours, thanks go to them also.

In his welcoming speech the chairman paid tribute to the efforts of players, coaches and background staff who had achieved so much this year, while not forgetting the efforts of Joel Williams for his hard work in keeping the second XV on the field.

He finished by mentioning those members and friends the club has sadly lost in the past year.

It was then onto the awards for the evening. Club colours were awarded to the following for achieving 50 games for the club: Sam Bowdick, Ethan Dicks, Jake Goodfellow, Luke Hewitson, Harry Moyle and Richie O'Sullivan.

Head coach Jon Bryant then announced the winners of the playing awards - the player of the year award went to Harry Moyle for his outstanding season; the club player of the year went to Tom Perry; the Bethan Howell award, presented by Lyn Howell, went to Gareth Hall in recognition of his commitment to the squad this year; and the most improved player award for the first XV was awarded to flying winger Dylan Robertson.

Glynn Pirso then took over to announce the awards for the second XV - player of the year went to Jon Morris with Luke Hewitson receiving the award as most improved player.

It was then the turn of the chairman to announce the winners of what was expected to be the final two awards. Firstly he announced Andy Jamieson as the clubman of the year.

The chairman's award, when announced, was received to prolonged applause and cheering, as James Hollister stepped forward to receive the trophy.

James was injured during the season, which has seen him wearing a head and neck brace for the past three months and he still waits to have it removed.

Despite this, he has missed only one game since his injury, and that only because the brace had slipped and he was at the hospital getting fixed. He has continued to support his teammates and is seen as the father figure to many of them.

In a final twist, the club felt that the achievement of getting promotion should be recognised and it was decided to award a commemorative medal to all those who had been part of the momentous season, 49 in total.

That brought the end to the official part of the evening and the club are grateful for the generosity of Channing's Dental Services who kindly sponsored the trophies for a second year.

Congratulations go to all the winners and soon it will be time to meet the challenges next season is bound to bring.

The night carried on into the early hours and as numbers drifted away to the sounds of the 'Dad's Army Choir' the evening came to a natural end.

Injury forces Glamorgan wicket keeper to retire

GLAMORGAN'S reserve wicket-keeper Tom Cullen says that he is hoping to provide the club with a selection headache when captain and first choice keeper Chris Cooke returns from an ankle ligament injury in the coming weeks.

Australian-born Cullen has provided effective cover with bat and gloves, including a match-winning unbeaten 51 at Derby last month. He followed that up with 63 against Northants and another half-century (50) against Middlesex at Radlett this week.

"It's been quite pleasing to get an opportunity and to contribute to a really good win up in Derby, but also on the back of that, another good win away at Northants. It's one thing to get an opportunity, but it's another thing to go in and really grasp it with both hands. I was just really pleased that I did that and showed a few people what it is that I can contribute to the club."

"Chris [Cooke] is a really great player and has been for Glamorgan for a number of years now. We obviously want him to get back fit as quickly as he can. But if I can provide a selection headache for them, that's good for the club. But failing that, I am the number two at the club, and I'll contribute as best I can, in any way that I can."

Even when Cooke does eventually don the gloves again, Cullen doesn't rule out the possibility of claiming a batting spot in the side.

"I'm sure it might be an avenue where I can potentially play. I'm not getting ahead of myself too much, though. When he's fit again, that's a decision that'll be up to the management. The only thing I can keep doing is to keep trying to perform and contribute to the performances we're showing out on the park, which have been pretty positive."

Such positivity, according to Cullen, can be attributed to the new combination of Mark Wallace as Director of Cricket and Matthew Maynard as Head Coach, and also to the new additions to the playing staff.

"Matt and Mark were adamant that we needed to be tougher to beat as a team and as a club, and we needed to change some attitudes around the circuit of who we are against who we were. That, I guess, has been the most pleasing thing, that we are and continue to be unbeaten, and we're hoping to remain unbeaten for as long as we can."

"We've obviously had some brilliant additions to the squad and the team that have come in and done really well - Rooty [Billy Root], Charlie Hemphrey, Marnus Labuschagne - but it's just an attitude change that Mark and Matt have come in with, and have brought a really positive attitude to the players, and have given them a really positive outlook on how to play cricket."

As well as an attitude change, Cullen believes that pride in the county and what it stands for, as the only Welsh side in the County Championship, has also played a significant part in the team's success this year.

"Glamorgan is obviously a big club in Wales and our mantra remains the same, which is that we want to Make Wales Proud, and we obviously want to make our supporters really proud."

The daffodil county will be hoping to carry that Welsh pride with them when they venture over the bridge this weekend to take on nearest rivals Gloucestershire in their next Specsavers County Championship match in Division Two.

"We obviously know them very well. We play a lot against them, we know what they're about and how good they can be. We go into that game the same as we've gone into every game in the past five or six. We go in, take them on, play hard cricket and we'll be tough to beat. Hopefully, in the game, we can get ahead and go there and get a really positive result going in to the last three games before the T20s."

Wales Deaf Open hosted by Brynhill

ON June 15, Brynhill Golf Club played host to the Wales Deaf Open, with the weather giving us four seasons in one day, keeping scores low was particularly tough with the players having to constantly adapt to ever changing climatic conditions.

The trophy has been the other side of the Severn Bridge for five years, since last Welsh winner Daniel Rees lifted it. Much rested on the shoulders of Barry boy Nick Daniels, Brynhill's own first team captain, but Nick wasn't in contention as Englishman Michael Burris, the one handicapper, posted a superb 74, three better than runner-up Marc Murphy. A well deserved victory that sees the trophy again remaining in Albion for another 12 months.

It wasn't all doom and gloom for Wales as Billy Harris (Llanelli) won best nett with Barry boy Sam Lazenbury coming second, in the Stableford competition first prize went to Brynhill member Darren Lloyd, while Royal Porthcawl's Nick Lacey finished second.

The manager of the Wales Deaf Golf Society thanked Brynhill for hosting the event, complementing the "fantastic" course, and wished to thank Brynhill's wonderful caters for the standard of food and level of service they received, hoping to return to this superb venue in the not too distant future.

AS

EVAN Williams, Tim Vaughan and David Brace, who all train horses in the Vale area, saddled winners at Ffos Las last Thursday evening.

Williams took the opening novices' handicap chase with Grania

O'Malley who, under stable jockey Adam Wedge, got home by three parts of a length from Topofthecotswolds.

Then 40 minutes later, Vaughan took the handicap chase with Midnight Folie, who was winning for the sixth time on the bounce. Later in the evening, Brace won the handicap hurdle with Patsio.

Midnight Folie was partnered by west Wales' Ben Jones and was made an odds-on favourite but Patsio, who was ridden by Mr Brace's grandson Connor Brace, was returned at odds of 11-1.

Centurions pick up fine away win at Hopkinstown

SULLY Centurions' First XI made the journey to Hopkinstown on a glorious sunny day and ran out winners by 70 runs, thanks in the main to a remarkable seven wicket haul from Lloyd Bruce.

Hopkinstown won the toss and asked Sully to bat first.

Some accurate bowling from the home openers, Deane and Blacker, frustrated Centurions and by the 16th over the score was 54 for three.

But a half century partnership between Gethin Hicks and Callum Thomas steadied the ship.

When Thomas

departed for 19, Hicks, who went on to make 67, joined with Toms Davies (51 not out) in a 6th wicket stand of 84.

The final score of 200 ensured maximum batting points.

Centurions' opening bowlers Nathan Cuddihy and Gareth Thomas picked up a wicket each to remove both Hopkinstown openers, Pember and Blacker, very early.

This was followed by Lloyd Bruce removing G Hughes to leave the score on 38 for 3 in the 13th over.

But a half century partnership between J Hughes (25) and Hopkins (37) brought the home side back in contention before Bruce began his one-man demolition job on the middle and lower order.

From 105 for 5 the hosts slumped to 130 all out and the game was all over with 16 overs to spare.

Hopkinstown 130 all out, Sully Centurions 200-6.

The Second XI played host to Crumlin Second XI and won an exciting match in the final over.

The visitors batted first and, thanks to some determined batting from the middle and lower order, managed to post a total of 179 all out.

Pritchard (58) and Parker (33) were top scorers for Crumlin, while Vasant and Hicks took three wickets each for Centurions.

Jake Griffith and Harish Hirani both picked up two wickets.

After tea, despite losing an early wicket, Sully were looking well set at 77 for one.

However, three wickets for four runs brought Crumlin back into the reckoning, with skipper Dan Chauk falling just three short of his half century.

But Jake Griffith (26) and Vasant (28 not out) swung it once again in Centurions' favour.

The target was reached in the 39th over, with just four balls remaining.

Sully Centurions II 183-8, Crumlin II 179 all out

Centurions, in partnership with Barry Wanderers CC, have been running Friday evening sessions for five to eight-year-old boys and girls, as part of the ECB's 'All Stars' programme.

These have proved to be very enjoyable and popular.

Last Friday's session was well attended, and a good time was had by all.

On July 6 there will be a barbecue and social evening at Burnham Avenue, as a celebration of the cricket World Cup.

The event will commence following that day's home match (against Barry Athletic CC). All are welcome to attend.

This week Centurions play Monkswood at Burnham Avenue while the Second XI travel to Blaengarw.

All players are asked to let their captains know of their availability.

The weather plays a pivotal role in Barry Central results

THIS PAST week has seen the weather playing a major part in Barry Central Bowling Club's progress.

While games have been played, members have had to often compete against weather as well as opponents.

As stated in my last report, internal competitions still continue to be played. On Tuesday, June 18 members took part in the mixed pairs competition.

However, it was extremely pleasing to see male and female players on the green together.

Unfortunately, owing to the unavailability of players for the next round of matches, it has been decided by the committee to close the competition.

On Wednesday the men's team travelled to Penarth to play its Munro Cup fixture against Rectory Road.

The team gave a much improved display compared to the match against Sully Sports. However, once again a rink lost quite heavily, otherwise the result would have been a closer affair.

Friday saw the ladies travel to Fairwater, to play in their two rink league match.

Although both rinks tied their matches, the Fairwater team were unable to field full rinks, resulting in the Central team being awarded the points for the overall match.

Once again, a Saturday match for the men's team was cancelled owing to the opposition, Millwood, being unable to field a team.

To rearrange this fixture could prove difficult as the Central has a full fixture programme.

The afternoon, graced by the best weather of the season to date, saw a number of men involved in club competitions.

On June 26 the club has been selected to host South Glamorgan ladies in a six-rink match against Wiltshire Ladies.

With the green at its best, a close match is hoped for. The ladies of Central will assist the event in catering and hospitality for both teams. The public is welcome to spectate.

Millwood Bowling Club run into tough opposition

WITH the bowling season in full swing, last week saw Llantwit Major visit for the next instalment of the Munro Cup.

Rink two saw Peter Taylor, Mickey Lucas, Rob Browne and Steve Sewell trail 11-1 after 6 ends. A mini revival saw the home rink pull back to 10-11 after 12, but that was as good as it got as 14 unanswered shots on the last 6 ends saw the visitors win 24-10.

Over on rink three, Derek Gorringer, Tony Cole, John Slee and Dave Bourne also got off to a slow start and were soon trailing 8-2 after 5 ends. The final end started with the home rink behind 19-12 but the 'never say die' attitude of the home rink finally got its reward when they scored a 7 to tie the match 19-19.

Rink four of Tony Williams, Gary Smith,

Stan Hopkins and Haydn Spencer did not get into the game at all and found that on the night their best was not good enough and they went down to a heavy defeat by 32-6.

Meanwhile on rink five, Brian Howcroft, Keith Davies, Terry Mullins and Brian Crockford got off to a mixed start swapping shots so that after 11 ends the scores were tied nine shots apiece.

A 3 on the 12th end gave the home side a 12-9 lead at which point the home rink dropped 7 shots over the next three ends and finally lost by 21-13, giving the visitors a comfortable overall victory 95-48 and taking 13 of the 14 points on offer.

On Saturday, Millwood were at Gelli Park for a division match. On rink one, Keith Davies, Dave Lewis, Haydn Spencer and Rob Browne led 6-2 after 5 ends and led 12-8 after 12. At that point the home side rallied and 9 shots without reply saw them ease to a comfortable 21-13 win. On rink two, Peter Taylor, Mickey Lucas, Tony Cole and John Slee did not find the green to their liking at all and subsided to a 23-13 defeat.

On rink three, Brian Crockford, Nigel Tutton, Brian Howcroft and Tony Williams were 11-5 ahead after 6 ends, a position they were able to maintain to the end of the match, finally winning 27 shots to 21.

Meanwhile on rink four, Steve Sewell, Derek Gorringer, Keith Thomas and Dave Bourne found themselves trailing 8-1 after 5 ends and lost by 23-10. The final match score was a win for the home side by 88-65, taking 12 points to Millwood's 2.

Success for Team JSTKD

TEAM JSTKD produced a superb performance at the recent TAGB Welsh Area Tae Kwon Do Championships.

This is a large regional tournament and as well as teams travelling from all across Wales, there are 'guest' clubs from some of the English counties who also make the trip to compete.

There were outstanding performances from European and Welsh National Champions - Zac Grinter and Alex Munn - both of whom made it a hat-trick to bag the golds in their respective Boys' Red Belt sparring events. Zac was joined by his sister Lucy who came away with a bronze as well as his youngest brother, six-year-old Rhys who made a very impressive debut by winning the gold in the 'Tiny Tots Sparring'.

This was no mean feat as he had to battle through five rounds to win his champion's title!

There were also some excellent results for Harry Thomas and Evey Mallesha Thompson who both won silvers and there was a well-deserved bronze for Emily Hardwick too. As usual, there was a super effort from all of our team - Max Jones, Rhys Jenkins, Jake Hayvise, Sean Murphy, Darcy Griffin, Luca Wilson, Grace Waters and Joanne Webster who all competed well throughout the day.

The team will be making the most of the upcoming summer holidays before being back in action in the autumn.

JSTKD has classes for all levels and offers a free taster lesson at all their venues. Full details at www.jstktd.co.uk.

Cadoxton struggle in Munro Cup derby

SULLY Sports were the visitors to Cadoxton in a Munro Cup fixture, where the result went in their favour, although the rinks were shared two each.

E Heppenstall, E Davies, W Craven, H Craven 13 - 10 G Trickett, L Adams, A Collard, K Agius.

A Ralphs, D Jenkins, P Ellis, I Heppenstall 23 - 12 B Knight, B Whyman, K Romans, L Romans.

A Prince, G Goddard, E Palmer, M Hurley, 9 - 24 P Holland, B Matthews, G Brown.

J Stacey, D Sluman, S Clarke, D Kuhnell 10 - 16 J Pearce, M Stafford, G Currie, C Coomber.

Final score: 55 - 62. Ian Heppenstall had the best result for the home side with his rink against Lee Romans.

The visitors started well with a 7-3 score after six ends; however, a seven against them turned the game around and they struggled to keep in the game from then on.

A further two fours towards the end enhanced the home victory. Howard Craven continued his winning ways, after a comeback following a 6-1 deficit after four ends.

The scores were levelled at nine each on the 14th end.

Three successes against one on the remaining ends completed the home recovery in a tight game with most of the scores, singles.

Don Kuhnell's rink started with a 6-3 advantage after six ends. However, with the opposing third Gerrie Currie regularly spoiling good heads to win seven of the following ends with singles, the supremacy changed hands.

An attempt on the next to get the jack back, when a shot down, was unluckily turned into four down.

It left the visitors with a 16-9 advantage. Wins for the home side on the last two ends made the score a little more acceptable.

There was a Cadoxton v Belle Vue friendly on June 22.

G Goddard, W Craven, H Craven 12 - 14 F Keen, D Huntley, G Field, D Pulser.

G Solomon, E Palmer, J Davies 16 - 24 D Jaynes, M Owens, P Paterson, D Bagnell.

D Jenkins, S Clarke, M Thomas 18 - 14 P Booth, D Smith, D Miller.

J Stacey, E Davies, D Kuhnell 18 - 15 D Baddley, D Rappitt, R Brant, T Ford 64 - 67.

Once again, a gap in the Cadoxton fixtures resulted in a hastily arranged home friendly with Belle Vue who also had a blank day.

Due to a shortage the opposing captain agreed to even the teams up by guesting for Cadoxton.

The sun shone which made it an ideal day for bowls, and everyone enjoyed the ambience of the afternoon.

Although the rink skipped by Malcolm Thomas, 'the guest player', helped win on his rink, the overall success went to the visitors.

Don Kuhnell struggled during the early stages on his rink against Trevor Ford and had eight losing ends from the first ten.

However, after winning the next and shortening the jack, the tables were turned to lose just one of the remaining to win by three shots.

Howard Craven failed to keep his unbeaten record although fighting back from a 4-10 deficit, after ten ends to finish just two shots short.

The other rink skipped by Jim Davies conceded a six early in the game, but pulled back to 7-8 after eight ends.

The success did not continue as they lost the next five to trail 7-20.

They did recover the six on the penultimate end but too late to change the outcome.
